BOOST AS NEW SURGERY OPENS

Report by By Lisa O'Brien

A NEW GP surgery has opened its doors in Cannock, offering 1,000 extra appointments a month for patients.

The Cannock Practices Network has been launched at Cannock Chase Hospital after £320,000 was secured following a successful bid to the Prime Minister's Challenge Fund.

It offers GP and nurse appointments to patients when their own practice either has no appointments left or is closed. The surgery is now open from 3.30pm until 8pm on weekdays and from 9am until 1pm on weekends.

In all, 10 practices from the network are involved including Alderwood Medical Practice, Chadsmoor Medical Practice and Moss Street Surgery. The Cannock practices network is one of three established by the Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group.

Clive Cropper, practice manager at Moss Street Surgery and project lead, said: "We genuinely believe that this project will provide significant help to the patients of these practices.

"The increased availability that these appointments will provide is what many patients have been asking for.

"Our first session was very encouraging, with seven out of the 10 practices booking at least one patient. We saw 31 patients in total and all of the doctor and nurse practitioner appointments were used."

Appointment

The project is funded until March 2016.

Mr Cropper added: "In order for it to continue, feedback is very important to help us to make that case by demonstrating its success and patient satisfaction."

Appointments are booked through a patient's own practice when they ring after 1.30pm for an appointment and there are none available.

Patients are then given the option to be seen at the new network surgery.

It is hoped the project will also free up time in practices, giving extra time to GPs to spend longer with vulnerable and complex patients. Another aim is to reduce people unnecessarily visiting the minor injuries unit and A&E.

The Prime Minister's Challenge Fund was launched in October 2013 and initially made £50million available to help improve access to general practice and stimulate innovative ways of providing primary care services.

A further £100m was made available for a second wave of applications in September 2014, with the network's improving patient access project being one of 37 successful bids.

The project will be monitored and evaluated on a regular basis in conjunction with the Network Patient Participation Group, whose membership includes representatives from Healthwatch Staffordshire, the Carers Association, the Alzheimer's Society and Cannock Chase District Council.

JOY AS WRAPS COME OFF MINING SCULPTURES

Marking the unveiling of the mining sculptures in Rugeley are, from left, Graham Jellyman, aged 54, Robert Carroll, 64, Bob Edgar, 60, Mal Watkiss, 59, Terry Sullivan, 74, Andy De Comyn, Dennis Southwell, 76, Sam White, 60, and Ray McMenamin, 58

IT was the day Rugeley had been waiting decades for – the unveiling of a new memorial in recognition of the town's once-thriving mining industry.

Despite being in situ for more than week, the wraps were finally taken off the sculptures in front of more than 2,000 people who lined the streets on Sunday.

The four 9ft high statues, one facing each road off the Globe island, were designed by Andy De Comyn, who is also responsible for the Shot At Dawn sculpture at the National Memorial Arboretum in Alrewas. The project cost £55,000 and was the culmination of a four-year project spearheaded by Lea Hall & Brereton Collieries Memorial Society.

Best

"For years and years Rugeley was like a ghost town, but now on September 13, 2015, it is alive again," said chairman Brian Batey.

Mr De Comyn said: "Some people have said to me this is the best thing that has happened to them. When they shut the mines it affected absolutely everyone here."

Names of those who have died at Lea Hall and Brereton Collieries were read out by local schoolchildren and remain on permanent view.

Cannock Chase MP Amanda Milling, who was also in attendance, said: "Mining is such an important part of Rugeley's heritage."

M&S food store to open in spring

THE opening of Cannock's new M&S food store has been delayed until next spring.

The outlet at the Orbital Retail Park was initially expected to open in April but has suffered delays, caused says Cannock Chase Council, by M&S lodging new plans for cosmetic changes to its building.

After then planning to open next month, M&S spokesman Gemma Hitchcock said: "I can confirm the new store will now open in spring 2016."

Norton Canes ward Councillor Zaphne Stretton said: "I was hoping it would be open for Christmas."

EMERGENCY

M6 driver has heart attack at the wheel

A DRIVER suffered a heart attack at the wheel while driving on the M6 near Cannock. He was travelling on the southbound side between junction 11 for Cannock and 10 for Walsall.

The motorway was closed while emergency crews attended the scene at around 12.15pm on Tuesday. It led to delays of 40 minutes.

Central Motorway Police Group said some drivers stopped to offer first aid but others ignored a lane closure which slowed down the emergency services.

INJURY

Cyclist is hurt in fall on the Chase

A CYCLIST enjoying some off-roading with his son suffered serious injuries in a fall and was rescued by ambulance crews.

Medics were called to the Cannock Chase Bike Trail M8, The Monkey Trail, at around 1.15pm on Saturday.

The rider, believed to be around 50, suffered a brief loss of consciousness and a dislocated shoulder. He received treatment at the scene and his condition was stabilised. He was then taken to a 4x4 ambulance vehicle before being transferred to a waiting ambulance which could not access the Chase and on to County Hospital, Stafford for further treatment.

Schools to focus on film competition

Elinor Crawley

DIABETES UK is urging schools and students in Staffordshire to take part in a short-film competition to help raise awareness of Type 1 diabetes and improve care in schools for children and young people living with the condition.

The charity's 'Diabetes in School' short-film competition is open to all students aged 11 to 17 in Staffordshire, who are invited to submit a film, of no more than three minutes, sharing their experiences of life with diabetes at school.

For students to take part in the competition they will need their school's permission to film on their premises, and then they can enter with some friends, or on their own. There are two categories – best individual film, or best group film which is limited to no more than six people.

The film entries will be judged by an expert panel, which includes film actress Elinor Crawley, who starred in the British film Submarine and has Type 1 diabetes. In addition to this, the public will be invited to pick their favourite film, which will win the accolade of 'fan favourite'.

Shortlisted entrants and the winner of the fan favourite category will be invited to a special awards ceremony at the Bafta 195 Piccadilly private members club in London on December 12 when the winning films will be screened and competition winners announced. Winners will receive prizes for themselves and their school, including iMac desktop computers, iPad Airs 2, and GroPro cameras. The 'Diabetes in School' competition will run until November 16.

All of the films submitted will be available to view on Diabetes UK's YouTube channel.

Village homes plan back on the agenda

CONTROVERSIAL plans to build more than 130 homes on green belt land in Great Wyrley have been resubmitted – less than two years after 4,000 villagers petitioned against the development.

KGL Holdings want to build 136 homes on land off Landywood Lane. The plans also include 90 park and ride spaces for Landywood station, 17 allotments and 23 acres of public park.

MP Gavin Williamson, led a petition to stop the scheme in 2013 and said he was 'deeply concerned' the plans were back on the table.

"The last time 4,281 people signed our petition and said they didn't want it," he said. "I am deeply concerned and disappointed that proposals that have already been rejected once have been reheated and resubmitted."

Campaigners have vowed to take on the developers once again and a protest group to save the land already has more than 500 followers.

Heritage

The proposals include 22 affordable houses and the money from 80 of the properties would be used to renovate and save four listed buildings in Penkridge.

Developer Mr Ken Lees also owns Teddesley Park Estate, which includes four Heritage Assets.

Mr Lees said: "We appreciate that all planning applications of this size in villages are not met with enthusiasm by the local residents, especially when in green belt land.

"However, the development of this land will create a residential development that we believe will add to the vitality of Great Wyrley."

Hundreds have raised concerns about the site merging Cheslyn Hay and Great Wyrley, as well as additional traffic, limited school spaces and the impact on wildlife.

Mother-of-two Debbie Wilkins, who has lived in the village for almost 30 years, said: "The infrastructure will not be able to cope and there will be very little affordable housing so that won't benefit the village's young people.

"We will lose that village feel."

Preparation just purr-fect for show

Vicky Evans, Linda Askew, Michelle Beere, Brett Dewsbury, Louise Hewitt, Helen Cartwright and Jane Lake

ACTORS took their research seriously when preparing to take the stage for a play about training for a charity walk.

Members of Cannock Chase Drama Society took part in the Lichfield Solstice Walk in June as preparation.

In the show, Cheshire Cats, women take on the challenge of the London Moonwalk.

The comic drama, by Gail Young, is based on a true story about five women who took part in the walk in 2003.

Julie Hunter, director of the production said: "The girls were inspired by the subject matter."

The show is being performed at The Prince Of Wales Centre in Cannock for three nights from today (Thursday) until Saturday.

Tickets are £8 for the opening night but £13 for subsequent performances and can be obtained by calling 07968 757820 or the box office on 01543 578762.

Fly-tipping clean-up bill may amount to £100,000

THE clean-up bill for fly-tipping in the Lichfield district is likely to be £100,000 by the end of the year, council chiefs claim. It comes after a recent spate in Burntwood.

The latest incicent saw a large pile of waste dumped in Dark Lane on September 11 which blocked the whole road.

The discarded items included a red and cream armchair and a two seater sofa, pieces of wood and bags of rubbish.

Over the August bank holiday large conifer cuttings were dumped in Little Pipe Lane and Coulter Lane.

In total, the council's environment officers have had to attend nine different incidents of fly-tipping in the past few months.

Spokesman Esther Epstein said: "On average it costs £70,000 to £100,000 a year to deal with fly-tipping, with £100,000 being a particularly bad year.

"It hasn't been that much in a few years but that's what it is looking like costing this year at the moment."

Other incidents in August included rubbish dumped in Coppice Lane at Muckley Corner and further incidents in Lichfield.

Councillor Iain Eadie, cabinet member for waste services on the district council, said: "Fly-tipping is a criminal offence. When people do it they are not just blocking the roads and causing a danger, they are running up a big bill.

"It can cost up to £100,000 of council taxpayers' money to clear away local fly-tipping each year, which is money we could be spending on local services."

More than 250 aided by scheme

MORE than 250 people have been given a step up on the property ladder across Cannock Chase thanks to the Government's Help to Buy Scheme.

Chase MP Amanda Milling MP has welcomed new figures, which are the highest in Staffordshire.

Help to Buy was introduced by the Conservatives to help working people saving for a deposit to buy their own home.

Across the country, Help to Buy has now enabled nearly 120,000 families to buy a new home – 269 in Cannock Chase – less than three years since it was launched.

Ms Milling said: "It is great news that we have been able to help 269 families to buy their own home in Cannock Chase constituency."

Awards for very best in Bloom challenge

TOWNS and villages in Staffordshire were among the winners in the Midlands-wide annual battle of the blooms.

Green-fingered growers in Burntwood, Great Haywood, Colwich and Little Haywood are celebrating winning gold and silver in the Heart of England in Bloom competition.

Beautiful flower beds, well-swept roads and paths and a proud community were all ingredients for success.

A silver-gilt award went to Burntwood in Bloom in the large town section, while Colwich and Little Haywood and Great Haywood achieved gold in the large village section.

Aldridge won a gold award in the urban communities section, and was also named joint category winner.

Halesowen was awarded gold in the same category, while Stourbridge and Claverley picked up gold in the categories of small city and small village.

Bilston, Darlaston and Willenhall were awarded the silver-gilt.

More than 180 delegates from 47 entries of villages, towns, urban communities and cities within the Heart of England region attended the crowning event in Warwickshire.

Heart of England in Bloom chairman Roger Bache praised all the entrants involved. "Entrants give a lot of time and effort to make where they live and work a nicer, safer place to be and are very proud when they receive their prestigious awards," he said.

"This year the RHS set the theme of Greening the Grey Britain, and in our region they certainly did."

Young sailor in top 50 of world's best

Krishan Bhogal with Ian Walker

A YOUNG sailor has finished in the top 50 in the world less than two years after receiving a new boat through a national scheme aimed at helping talented youngsters progress in sailing.

Manor Park Sailing Club's Krishan Bhogal, 13, finished 47th racing against some of the world's top juniors at the Zhik International Topper World Championships on Lake Garda, Italy. Krishan, from Barton-under-Needwood, was one of the first beneficiaries of a link-up between youth sailing charity, the John Merricks Sailing Trust (JMST), and RYA OnBoard, sailing's national governing body's grassroots programme.

The youngster was presented with his JMST OnBoard Award by 2014-15 Volvo Ocean Race-winning skipper Ian Walker. Krishan first got into sailing aged 10. He attended all the junior sailing and coaching sessions run as part of RYA Onboard at Manor Park Sailing Club in Rugeley Road, Kings Bromley, and still participates in junior and adult sailing at the club.

He said: "Sailing on Lake Garda was an amazing experience.In May 2013 I competed in my first Topper event using a boat borrowed from my club. I thought I could sail, but I came last by a mile. I was determined to improve." JMST are donating more than 50 one-person junior RYA pathway boats and windsurfing boards through RYA OnBoard over five years.

Krishan initially received two years' use of his JMST Topper with it then donated to Manor Park SC to enable other youngsters to progress.

But to help Krishan keep improving, the club is letting him use it for another year before he moves into a bigger junior or youth boat.

Skydive sends Stephen fund high above £5.5m

A LEGACY fund for Stephen Sutton has tipped over the £5.5 million mark thanks to a record-breaking skydive by hundreds of people.

Teenage Cancer Trust has announced that the 10,000ft jump by 403 people last month raised £264,065.

The event made it into the Guinness Book of Records for the most people to participate in a skydive. Added to the amount raised by fundraisers inspired by the remarkable teenager, the charity said the total raised by Stephen's Story has now hit £5,535,948.35.

Stephen Sutton

The money will be spent on cancer education and awareness, and the charity will expand and develop its pioneering education programme.

His mother Jane Sutton said: "The amounts of money raised are quite staggering, and I am humbled by the continued support given to Stephen's Story and Teenage Cancer Trust.

"This demonstrates how you are making a difference to the lives of young people with cancer." Among those skydiving in Lincolnshire were Jane, Stephen's brother Chris, his nan and family friends.

Jane added: "If Stephen could see the enthusiasm he has generated he would be over the moon. I want to say a huge thank you to everyone who has been inspired to fundraise for Teenage Cancer Trust by Stephen.

"Stephen was passionate about education. It is vitally important that young people are taught the signs of cancer at school. Stephen experienced considerable delay being diagnosed with cancer. Who knows what a difference an earlier diagnosis could have made? Unfortunately, this situation is not unique to Stephen and many young people with cancer have similar problems being diagnosed."

Teenage Cancer Trust will hold Teenage Cancer Action Week from September 28 to October 4. Stephen Sutton was diagnosed with bowel cancer at the age of 15 and died aged 19, in May 2014, but not before he had helped to raise more than £3m for charity after creating a bucket list which went viral.

The wasps' nest photographed by Jean Jennings of Hazel Slade

Nest in garden creates real buzz

IT could be a lamp shade from Ikea – but this delicate, papery sphere that appeared on a bird box in Cannock is a wasps' nest.

Look closer and several busy insects can be seen making themselves at home in Jean and David Jennings' back garden in Cannock Wood Road, Hazel Slade.

The couple noticed the nest when it was half-built and then watched over the course of the next two weeks as it grew bigger and bigger.

Mrs Jennings, a 66-year-old retired care worker, said she was working on her beloved borders when she spied the nest suspended from a bird box on the garden shed. "It's truly amazing to look at," she said.

"It looks like it's made of cardboard. They're quite big wasps but I wasn't frightened of them.

"If you don't bother them, they won't bother you.

"The nest was really big – an amazing sight – but in the end it became so heavy, it dropped off and hundreds of wasps flew out."

Wasps' nests are made of a substance similar to paper that the insects produce by chewing wood into a pulp.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

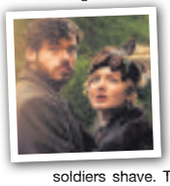
INTERESTING, isn't it, how we reveal our opinions about the monarchy in the way we describe the Queen? Do you think of her as the "longest-serving" monarch or the "longest-reigning"?

A NUMBER of you have pointed out that if we had a republican system we might well be ruled over by President Blair and First Lady Cherie. If that happened, there wouldn't be all this agonising about when the Chilcot Report would be published. Never.

MY local bargain-basement shop is asking a mere 99p for its magnetic car tax-disc holders. Good luck with that.

TWENTY thousand Syrian refugees over five years is nothing. Britain could absorb that number in a single month and barely notice it. So why has David Cameron opted for such a tiny figure, exposing himself to finger-wagging? Probably because he has done the bigger sums. The 20,000 from Syria is in addition to the 620,000 newcomers who arrive in Britain each year legally, plus the untold hundreds of thousands who come illegally. Those who accuse Britain of pulling up the drawbridge ignore the fact that the drawbridge was dismantled years ago.

I AM convinced there is a military-misrepresentation department in the BBC whose job is to irritate old soldiers by slipping deliberate mistakes into TV drama. What else could account for basic errors such as squaddies saluting each other while wearing civilian clothes, as seen in Sherlock, or Private Mellors (Richard Madden) sporting a full beard in the First World War trenches in Sunday's adaptation of Lady Chatterley's Lover? British soldiers shave. Tricky to say but easy to remember.



BRITAIN is not exactly Tornado Alley, is it? We may get a few gales per year but the Met Office's plan to give them all names, as in the United States, seems wildly over the top. The pilot scheme this winter will have alternating male and female names, running from A to Z . The theory is that giving a storm a name increases public awareness. Really? Or is the truth that we just like copying whatever the Yanks do? Here's an all-British alternative which avoids any confusion and spares us the effort of selecting suitable names. We will have Storm One, Storm Two, Storm Three, and so on. Simples, innit?

AS the eternally cash-strapped NHS scratches around to fund weekend GP care and hospital cover, I spotted an advert for a couple of non-executive directors for one trust. The pay is £12,000 per year – but you only have to work four days a month. That's the way the money goes.

Don't miss Peter Rhodes every Monday to Friday in your Express & Star

Plea to ensure carers are celebrated

INDIVIDUALS, care organisations, volunteers and students across Staffordshire who put dignity at the heart of everything they do will be celebrated in a special awards event.

The Dignity Awards recognise individuals, care services and community groups who respect people's dignity. These services ensure people are treated with respect, that they can freely express what they want, and can maintain the maximum level of independence, choice and control.

Previous winner Amanda Yates, who works at Ashcroft Hollow Nursing Home, in Huntington, has spoken about what winning a Staffordshire Dignity Award has meant for her.

She said: "The award means a lot to me for something I enjoy doing on a daily basis. It was wonderful to see the comments from service users and their families and the impact my work has on them." Anyone can nominate those they felt went the extra mile in caring for people and giving an excellent quality of service.

Staffordshire County Council, which is behind the awards, wants to see as many nominations as possible to ensure young people, family carers, community groups and organisations are celebrated. For a nomination form, contact the Care Market Development team on 01785 355795, email dignity@staffordshire.gov.uk or visit www.staffordshire.gov.uk/dignityincare

Closing date for nominations is January 6. Shortlisted nominees will be invited to the celebration event on Thursday, March 3 when winners will be announced and presented with their prize.

Courier firm delivers another 100 jobs boost

By Simon Penfold

COURIER company APC Overnight is set to deliver 100 new jobs at its base in Cannock, as it gears up for another busy Christmas.

The company, the UK's biggest independent delivery firm, is on the hunt for 100 new operators for its night shift to take up permanent jobs at its site in Kingswood Lakeside, ahead of its peak time over the festive season.

Last year was the busiest in APC's 20-year history as it handled millions of parcels at its purpose-built sortation centre. On its busiest day, December 15, the site sorted 166,092 parcels in 24 hours.

The company has seen continued growth, adding another 100 to its 500 staff earlier this year, providing a lifeline to those who lost their jobs at collapsed City Link.

Now the company is looking for a further 100.

Emma Scott, human resources director, said: "We're on the lookout for highly motivated individuals looking to build a long-term career in one of the region's fastest growing businesses.

Peak

"We're continuing to see impressive year on year growth and while we're aiming to fulfil vacancies ahead of the festive peak the positions we've created are permanent."

To cope with last year's growing pre-Christmas demand, the company invested £6 million including the installation of installed two new sky sorters.

APC Overnight is now organising recruitment days to help it select its 100 new workers. The first one will involve an open day at Kingwood Lakeside on Thursday, October 1, from 10am to 3pm. For further information visit www.apc-overnight.com, email recruitment@apc-overnight.com, or call the company's recruitment line on 01922 702 544.

More about all of APC Overnight's current vacancies and how to apply can be found at www.apc-overnight.com/career-opportunities.

Husband's trek in memory of Lorna

MNDA Stafford Group secretary Sheila Lamisere, left, care development adviser Jackie Dornford and Kevin Chandler

'IT'S not going to be easy but it is something I have got to do.'

These are the words of a grieving husband who is to climb one of the world's tallest mountains in memory of his late wife. Kevin Chandler, who lives in Cannock, will take on 19,341ft Mount Kilimanjaro to raise cash for the Motor Neurone Disease Association following the death of his wife Lorna.

Lorna lost her battle with the disease in May last year at the age of 67 – three days before her birthday.

The rapidly progressive condition affects the brain and spinal chord and can attack the nerves that control movement in the body. It affects up to 5,000 adults in the UK at any one time. Kevin, 58, will take on the challenge from September 24 and will return to his Pye Green Road home in early October.

He hopes to raise more than £1,000 for the charity, which helped his family while Lorna was suffering from the condition.

"I am really looking forward to the challenge," he said. "It's not going to be easy but it is something I have got to do.

"I've been watching several YouTube videos to motivate me. It will be a great achievement to get to the top."

Kevin is also member of the Motor Neurone Disease Association Stafford Group and regularly attends meetings each week.

Junior citizen award open for district youngsters

YOUNGSTERS in Cannock can be recognised in a Good Junior Citizen award launched by the district council. The award is open to pupils in years 5 and 6, who have made a positive contribution to the local community and/or the quality of the local environment.

Nominations can be made by anyone, as long as they are not related to the young person and can be for an individual or a group or class.

The award was originally established by the council in 2013, to recognise the positive contributions made by young people in their community.

Since then the scheme has seen more than 50 awards made to individuals from a number of local schools.

The authority is now publicising the scheme in the hope of attracting further nominations and honouring more worthy young people.

Environment leader Councillor Alan Dudson said: "It is good for young people to see that their efforts are being recognised.

"Far too often they face criticism that many do not deserve. In acknowledging and rewarding good behaviour we hope to encourage the younger generation to adopt a more positive and responsible attitude towards the environment and other people."

Successful recipients will each receive a certificate and goody bag and will be entered into an annual prize draw to win a £50 voucher. For more information and to download a nomination form visit www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk/goodjuniorcitizen

Cider tax rules could be eased

THE EU Commission has signalled it will consider allowing a tax exemption for Staffordshire's small cider and perry producers.

It follows pressure from local MEP Daniel Dalton who along with Camra has been campaigning for a rule change to allow a duty exemption.

Earlier this year the EU Commission ordered the UK Government to end its 40-year tax break for small producers.

It meant that producers who make 33 pints or less day will have to pay duty of up to £2,700 a year.

Mr Dalton said: "These producers have a turnover of less than £20,000 a year and to expect them to pay duty would force many out of business."

The EU has now said it will consult on a rule change.

Agency in damages claim over lorry blaze

THE Environment Agency is seeking £28,000 in damages from a haulage company they say is responsible for the deaths of more than 150 fish after a huge lorry fire on the M6.

Wildlife experts have stated it may take years for fish to repopulate the River Penk after the major blaze on July 18.

It happened after a lorry burst into flames on the southbound carriageway between Junctions 13 for Stafford and 12 at Gailey, releasing chemicals stored on the HGV into the nearby watercourses.

Fish and wildlife in the River Sow were also affected.

Although no-one has been blamed for the fire, the Environment Agency is seeking damages under legislation which allows costs to be obtained from the person or organisation responsible for the source of pollution.

Bosses will not disclose the identity of the company, due to legal reasons, they say.

Susan Bowen, from the Agency, said the Environment Agency was looking to recoup costs of just over £28,000.

"Although we understand the fire is likely to have been accidental, we are seeking to recover the costs of dealing with the pollution from the haulage company under the 'polluter pays' principle," she said.

Staffordshire Police confirmed no criminal action was taken against two Portuguese men who were driving the HGV when the vehicle ignited. It led to a 16-hour closure of the road.

Late evening bus scrapped

A LATE evening journey on the free patient and staff shuttle bus service between Cannock Chase and New Cross hospitals has been scrapped due to lack of use.

The last Arriva X68 will now leave Cannock at 6.30pm and arrive at Wolverhampton bus station at 7.06pm. The latest service used to leave Cannock at 9.40pm.

But, as part of the same shake-up of services, additional stops have been added to the route. They are at the Bluebrick pub, near Wolverhampton city centre, Longford Health Centre and Cannock bus station.

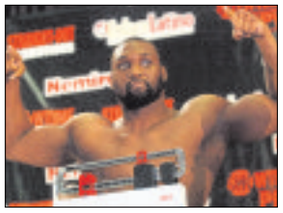
The changes affect services from Monday to Friday. The X68 costs £200,000 a year to run, funded by The Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust.

Scarecrow event to celebrate harvest

A SCARECROW festival will be held at St Peter's Church, Hednesford, on October 3 from 10am to 3pm.

There will be refreshments and stalls at the event, which is being held to celebrate the harvest.

Heavyweight guests at Bar Sport



Danny Williams – guest

A BOXER who famously knocked out Mike Tyson will be among the guests as one of Britain's most promising pugilists appears in Cannock.

Danny Williams, who knocked out Iron Mike in July 2004, will join Olympic gold medallist Anthony Joshua at Bar Sport's Premier Suite.

Joshua is billed as a future world heavyweight champion and is making a rare appearance on the after-dinner circuit on Wednesday.

Scott Murray, owner of Bar Sport's Premier Suite, was a top amateur boxer and was a sparring partner to Williams. He said: "Danny and myself go back a long way.

"We used to be sparring partners as amateur fighters. It will be great to see him on the night. Danny was a great world heavyweight contender, while Anthony Joshua will be a world heavyweight champion. Anthony Joshua is the real deal."

Joshua has won his 13 professional fights so far, stopping all of his opponents. Back in 2012 he won the super heavyweight title at the Olympic Games. Mr Murray has also announced that Ray 'Boom Boom' Mancini will be appearing at the venue on October 22.

Mancini is a former world lightweight champion and will prove to be a big hit with boxing fans.

Back in May, Carl Froch was invited to the venue and Bar Sport's Premier Suite has welcomed past greats including Sugar Ray Leonard, Roberto Duran, Tommy Hearns and Nigel Benn.

Tickets for all of the events include a five-course meal and entertainment from a comedian and prices start from £45. For details call 01543 572092.

Town at a standstill for mine statues unveiling

MORE than 2,000 lined the streets as four miners' statues – a nod to the town's proud heritage – were unveiled in Rugeley.

The nine-foot sculptures were installed at the Globe Island a week ago but residents had to wait to see the masterpieces as they were kept under wraps.

Deafening applause and cheers rang out as the covers were finally pulled off last Sunday.

Miners were once the beating heart of Rugeley until the pits closed at Brereton in 1960 and Lea Hall in 1991 and this unveiling was the culmination of a four-year project spearheaded by Lea Hall & Brereton Collieries Memorial Society.

Brian Batey, chairman, said: "This is an immensely proud day for the area. It has been a fantastic day some four years in the making from start to finish.

"A lot of people have come out and supported us and that is what it's all about.

"The closure of the pits decimated the town and decimated the people."

The concrete statues which weigh up to 2,000kg each, cost £55,000 collectively and took 18 months to be designed and created by Andy De Comyn.

Battle

He said: "Today has made me really proud especially the amount of people who have turned out. When they shut the mines it affected absolutely everyone here. This has been a long hard battle for them."

The names of 115 miners who died at Lea Hall and Brereton collieries were read out by primary school children. Their names will remain on permanent display thanks to a new plinth at the entrance to the town centre.

Doves were released while Deputy Lieutenant for Staffordshire Mrs Barbara Hyde formally dedicated the new memorial. Preacher and former miner Jim Bullock performed a bible reading.

The crowd then collectively sang an emotional rendition of 'Guide me, O thou great redeemer' accompanied by the Rugeley Power Station Band.

The ceremony ended with a miner-led procession from the town to Lea Hall Colliery Sports & Social Club.

Cannock Chase MP Amanda Milling said: "It was a real privilege to be there. It was an incredibly moving event."

IN MY VIEW

Cameron's blindness to needs of provinces

NO doubt David Cameron's unfortunate quip about folk from different parts of Yorkshire hating one another because they had put so many rival bids in for government cash was a casual aside, never intended to offend anybody, and which will probably be quickly forgotten.

It does, though, give an interesting insight into how little understanding the London-centric political class has of provincial Britain.

It seems Mr Cameron was surprised that people in different parts of Yorkshire had different priorities, and wanted money for their own localities rather than cutting a deal among themselves about where the money should go. But Yorkshire is a huge county. Just how would pouring money into the south of the county, which is basically the East Midlands, benefit somebody in the Dales?

It's no different here. While there is a lot of talk about devolution at the moment, it all sounds like anything but. Instead of local councillors looking after their own patches, we are pretty much being told that the only way the West Midlands will get the sort of money that London does is by forming some kind of regional authority. While it might not be called "Greater Birmingham", that is inevitably how Westminster will see it.Last week the West Midlands' new transport plan was announced, which was as predictable as it was depressing. High speed rail and a glitzy new station for Birmingham, and oh, yes, a few bendy buses for Sandwell and Dudley. That will kick-start the Black Country economy, won't it?

London-centred politicians assume that the rest of Britain really wants to be like London, and that fiercely independent towns and cities with very little in common bar an accident of geography, can all be lumped together to form some sort of artificial region.

WOLVERHAMPTON'S former Netto store looks set to face the bulldozers. The Scandinavian supermarket chain was told to move out in 2007, to make way for the Summer Row scheme which never went ahead, and in 2011 the council spent £50,000 on repairs to the property.

Wulfrunians will no doubt be very pleased that the eyesore building, previously home to the Clarkson and later Rackhams department stores, is now to finally bite the dust.

And eight years after Netto was forced to close its doors, maybe somebody could finally get round to removing all the road signs for the supermarket?

The large extended kitchen has two built-in ovens

The property has six bedrooms, one with a balcony

A lot of time and money has been spent on the property

Live like a celebrity . . . for a cool £1m

A magnificent Hollywood Hills-style property near Rugeley has gone on the market. KATY-ROSE MEANEY reports

WITH stunning views of an outstanding area of natural beauty, a heated swimming pool and stables, this is one property that is worth breaking the piggy bank for.

On the market for a cool £1 million, the six-bedroom countryside estate wouldn't be out of place as the home of an A-list celebrity inthe Hollywood Hills.

But this property sits back from the road, behind a security-gated entrance closer to home – on the outskirts of Cannock Chase.

Boasting paddocks, formal gardens, walk-in wardrobes, bedroom balconies and workshops all wrapped up in 5.86 beautiful acres, it is not your average Rugeley home.

After 11 years the current owners have decided to sell their family home in High Street, Colton and are looking for new buyers to take on the impressive property.

An outdoor swimming pool is just one of the impressive features

Stunning views from the back of the house

Ideas

Originally from Sheffield, Michael and Susan Barrett have spent more than a decade renovating the property, after buying it as the place to raise their two sons, who are now teenagers.

Despite it ticking most boxes on anyone's wish list, like any husband and wife, Mr and Mrs Barrett had different ideas about the type of family home they wanted to purchase.

Mr Barrett said: "I wanted something remote, and Susan wanted to be near neighbours. This house has both – the views at the back overlooking Cannock Chase are just stunning – so we decided to buy it straight away.

"It wasn't an investment, it is our family home, and we have wonderful memories here."

Before the couple purchased it, the home was owned by an elderly couple, and the family have spent a lot of time and money on the property to bring it bang up to date. "A lot of plasterwork needed doing and it needed rewiring," Mr Barrett said.

"It took a lot of work to revamp it and turn it into a 21st Century family home." As a business owner, Mr Barrett did a lot of the groundworks himself, and the family have spent around nine years updating it throughout.

"When we moved in, the carpet had been down for around 30 years, and there was a lot of floral wallpaper. We also extended the kitchen and lived through a lot of renovation work. We once had the decorators in for 16 weeks," he added. Like many older properties, there were often many additional jobs, once the couple looked a little deeper.

"When we started to modernise the home, we would strip the wallpaper and then find the walls needed re-plastering," Mr Barrett said.

"There was always something hidden under the job we thought we were doing." The family are now looking to downsize and move closer to Rugeley town centre, with Michael now 17 and Keiran, 13. Mr Barrett added: "The kids have grown up now, and it is time to move on. The house is just a bit too big for us.

"The gardens were ideal when the boys were growing up, lots of space to play football, and the heated pool, which we built about five years ago, is lovely." The grounds are divided into formal gardens and a paddock area.

There is a total of five stables and a tack room, workshops and three storerooms. The back garden has feature areas, surrounded by gravelled pathways, shaped shrubs and a pond complete with waterfall and rockery, not to mention the separate play area, with a sunken trampoline. One feature that really stands out is the swimming pool and an outdoor shower – but it's not just the outside of the property that is impressive. The entrance hall has a beamed ceiling and tiled fireplace and what million pound house wouldn't have a cellar?

For a modern, renovated property, it has character, with French doors and bay windows in the lounge and a log-burning stove in the sitting room. Of course, a home of this size has a separate dining room and a large extended kitchen, with two built-in ovens, a central island and wine fridge.

As a family home, it has six bedrooms, one with a balcony, and ladies can enjoy their own Sarah Jessica Parker-worthy dressing room, complete with spotlight and walk-in wardrobe.

If all that is not enough, the home has an annexe with its own lounge, kitchen, bedroom and bathroom. Outline planning permission has been granted for a detached one-bedroom annexe and a games and entertainment room.

The property is marketed by Connells. Viewings can be arranged on 01543 262376.

Hundreds get active with Chase It scheme

MORE than 500 young people have been getting active and healthy this summer thanks to the Chase It scheme.

The programme, run by WLCT on behalf of Cannock Chase Council, offers activities from white water rafting to leisure centre-based activity camps for youngsters aged five to 15.

And this year, more than 60 per cent of participants with disabilities or from low-income families were able to receive discounted or free access to the activities, thanks to extra funding from Staffordshire County Council's Aiming High and Resiliant Families schemes and Space, run by the Police and Crime Commissioner.

Pete Burt, managing director of WLCT, said: "It's been another fantastic year for Chase It, which offers a great opportunity for children and young people to keep active and healthy over the summer holidays."

Visit

Councillor Christine Mitchell, portfolio leader for culture and sport at Cannock Chase Council, said: "This year's Chase It scheme has been another great success."

The Chase It programme included 18 fun-filled days out including a trip to Wembley Stadium and a visit to the Lyceum Theatre in London to see The Lion King.

Five different sports coaching camps ran in partnership with local clubs, including cricket, golf, hockey, football and tennis. There were also six separate arts activity mornings.

The scheme ended with an End of Summer Extravaganza at Chase Leisure Centre, with more than 200 young people taking part in games with giant inflatables and a chance to gunge the Chase It Leaders.

Hoard inspires cake contest

THE Staffordshire Hoard will be the inspiration for a new cake-baking competition. The idea has been cooked up by Birmingham Museums where part of the collection is on display.

With the Great British Bake Off in full swing on TV screens, budding Mary Berrys and Paul Hollywoods are being asked to bake a unique creation using the Anglo-Saxon treasure as inspiration. Entries need to be submitted by September 28 and those getting involved have been asked to post a picture of their cakes on the 'Staffordshire Hoard' Facebook page or on Twitter using #hoardbakeoff

There are separate categories for adults and children. Winners will be announced on October 2 and will receive a Hoard-inspired bag of goodies.

The Staffordshire Hoard was found in a field at Hammerwich, near Lichfield, in 2009 by amateur metal-detectorist Terry Herbert.

We could be in win-win situation

ABOUT one per cent of UK land is given over to housing, about two per cent to golf courses.

I'm not knocking golf, but those readers who feel we can't home refugees because 'we're full' might consider whether this use of land is really characteristic of a nation that is drowning under a deluge of excess people.

We are facing an ageing population and a low birth rate.

This puts an increasing burden on those still creating wealth by working.

We now finding ourselves in the enviable position of being able to demonstrate real compassion by welcoming people fleeing a part of the world we ourselves played a huge part in destabilising, while solving the problem we have of an inexorably ageing native population.

Welcoming refugees is a win-win situation for the UK.

We're worried about another pet tragedy

OUR little cat Ava, aged three, was causing us some concern after we noticed she was off her food.

We thought she wasn't right but as she was drinking we decided to monitor her and take her to the vets if there was no improvement. All she managed to do was lick the gravy from a pouch that we gave her, but then later she didn't even do that.

There was no sign of injury and she let us examine her, all bar the mouth area. We suspected she had an abscess or similar. We decided to try to get her into the vets. We had to leave her there to restore her fluids via a drip. We were called later that day by the vet, to be told that he had found traces of a chemical only found in anti-freeze (unusual to be around this time of year) and that the herpes type virus that he suspected didn't add up.

We consider our house and garden a safe environment for Ava and a much older tom cat Jake, 12, so our suspicions were that Ava was a victim of a malicious attack. The vet discovered she had malformed kidneys (from a birth defect) which were damaged beyond repair due to the antifreeze poisoning. Ava was put to sleep on the advice of the vet.

We are heartbroken along with the rest of our family, especially our three little granddaughters.

This event has left us worried sick in case the same thing happens again.

Bus service changes mean having to walk

ONCE again Arriva has upset the apple cart. Buses 1, 2, 68 and 70 have changed, and not for the better.

I live at the top of Cheslyn Hay where we used to have a bus that went from the top of village into Great Wyrley – ideal for the doctors, opticians and shops. But then Arriva decides to cut that road off, and Landywood Lane no longer has a bus service. It's OK for people like myself who have always walked into Great Wyrley but you have mums with babies and elderly residents who now will have to walk.

One lady I met was waiting for a 70 to Wolverhampton; she had been there over 45 minutes. I told her the 70 no longer goes through the village. She had no idea about that.

I am sure there are a lot of people out there who are extremely unhappy. And where are the timetables? Libraries have not got any and Cannock bus station has none. How are we supposed to know the times?

Yobs have no respect

RE "Spit crackdown draws a blank" (Chronicle, September 3). For three years we have battled yobbish culture at our Tesco store in Hednesford. I personally have witnessed it, challenged it and told to clear off. Spitting is one aspect of unruly behaviour which is not going away. These children have no respect for any authority or the community. Good luck Cannock Chase Council in your efforts.

Law made an impact on unions

I WOULD like to comment on bullying in the workplace. I cannot understand what is happening.

Where are the representatives for these people? When I was a union rep, I used to have a great relationship with managers.

But if any line manager ever bullied a worker they would have sharp end of my tongue and I would take them to a higher manager.

There I would discuss the attitude of the line manager; if it continued, there would be action taken against them.

The trouble today is the Government has changed the law and this has reduced the influence of the unions. All I can say is if unions want people to join they need to get better reps.

Ones I have dealt with are at best useless and mostly not worth the position they hold. Most have taken on the job because they feel secure in the role.

Hospital is simply the best in region

I WAS shocked and dismayed to read the headline about Cannock Hospital and the recent report from The Care Quality Commission ("Hospital is told it must improve", September 10). Having moved to the area a year ago both myself and my wife have recently been outpatients at the hospital and found the care and treatment outstanding.

We have been treated as individuals (rare these days anywhere) by caring staff with excellent interpersonal skills and efficiency. I feel lucky to be able to use this excellent hospital and feel that the inspectors must have some sort of political agenda that 'big is best'. In my experience as a patient or visiting friends and relatives this hospital is quite simply the best in the West Midlands area. I hope this letter goes some way to redressing the balance.

ALL day on Facebook there was that picture of little Aylan Kurdi; not the one of the Turkish policeman carrying him, the one of him lying dead in the sea.

It was put there by caring and horrified people for all the right reasons, but this has really been eating at me.

Who in their right mind would take that picture, and deny him any dignity in death? Who in God's name would see a child lying in the sea, and before they did anything else take a picture? What kind of sick animal would not at the very least pull the child out of the water and at least try to determine if there were signs of life?

Celebration surprise as Mary is 90

HAYES GREEN WI

THERE were apologies from quite a number of members this month, as the holiday season continues.

President Sandy Hobbs welcomed those present, and started the meeting with Jerusalem as usual.

Secretary Elaine Smith read the minutes of the August meeting, and the treasurer read the financial statement.

The club enjoyed a special birthday party last month. It was a complete surprise for Mary Russell's 90th. birthday, and thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present. The birthday celebrations continued on the actual date, August 24, when members, friends and neighbours were invited to Mary's open house.

Mary thanked everyone for their kind wishes and especially the party.

Mrs Hobbs introduced Joy Jones of Norton Canes, who gave a lovely demonstration of her flower arranging skills. Mary Fullelove gave the vote of thanks, and the three beautiful arrangements were then raffled, and won by June, Sandy and Celia, who were all delighted with their prizes.

The ladies are looking forward to their skittles evening at the Hen House, Hednesford, and the visit to Chatsworth.

Mrs Hobbs closed the meeting, and wished everyone a safe journey home. The club meets on October 7 for the annual auction. New members are always given a warm welcome at St John's Church Hall, Heath Hayes.

Tales of life Down Under from visitor

Margaret Lobo from SI Perth, Australia with Dora Leighton of Si Cannock

SI Cannock & District

FOR many years SI Cannock has been linked with SI Perth, Australia and the clubs have been in regular correspondence.

In 2007 a member of SI Perth, Margaret Lobo, became the organisation's International President and Cannock Soroptimists were so pleased when they had the opportunity to see her take office and to enjoy her company when she visited Cannock in 2008. They were even more thrilled to have the chance to deepen that friendship when Margaret visited Cannock again recently.

Twenty club members joined her for lunch and spent a very happy few hours chatting about so many things: life in Australia compared to life in the UK; Soroptimists' role within the UN; SI and action on such issues as FGM and trafficking and the work done internationally to provide birthing facilities where none existed.

During the visit, Dora Leighton presented Margaret with a banner from SI Cannock and a gift which commemorated the club's 60th year.

Meeting Margaret has brought the two clubs closer. The two clubs will continue their correspondence and sincerely hope that they will meet again.

Here's to 100 years of WI

Burntwood WI

THE September meeting was a very special one as the group was celebrating the 100 years of the WI with a lovely vintage tea.

All the food had been made and prepared by the committee who also helped during the evening to keep the teapots topped up.

After the tea the business for the evening was kept to a minimum and Pat Hall entertained. A very amusing lady, WI member Pat read out four letters written by four different ladies during the First World War. She dressed up for each different character starting with a titled lady and finishing with a heavily pregnant one, all very funny. The WI was mentioned in all of her letters. Pat then went on to recite humorous poetry.

Mary Jarvis gave the vote of thanks and invited Pat to listen to the wonderful choir who ended the evening with songs from 100 years ago.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

£5.4m college academy given go-ahead

An artist's impression of how the new South Staffordshire College AgriSTEM Academy will look once completed

PLANS for a £5.4 million agricultural engineering academy at South Staffordshire College have been approved – and the facility will open in 12 months.

The former Granary buildings at the college's Rodbaston campus near Penkridge will be transformed and extended to provide space for an extra 1,000 students and 445 new members of staff.

The building, which will be known as the AgriSTEM Academy, is expected to open in September next year in time for the start of the new term. It was given the nod last week by South Staffordshire Council's planning committee.

Funding from the Stoke and Staffordshire Local Enterprise Partnership and will be spent on creating a 'world-class' academy, including an agricultural and construction vehicle simulator and renewable energies workshops. Building work is scheduled to begin in October.

College bosses say it will have a 'huge impact' on the scale and quality of training for the manufacturing and engineering sectors, as well as agricultural engineering and technology courses.

Graham Morley, chief executive principal of South Staffordshire College said: "We're delighted to have been granted planning permission."

Brutal brothers lose appeal on jail terms

TWO brothers jailed for battering a sleeping man with a metal clamp deserve every day of their 10-year prison sentences, top judges ruled.

Scott Anthony Williams, aged 31, and Robert Thomas Williams, 30, attacked plasterer Robert Taylor – against whom they had a long-running grudge – after storming into his home.

Mr Taylor, 33, was asleep in the house, in Mill Road, Brownhills, when the pair burst in – both having been out on the town.

They rained down blows with the clamp, before butting and beating him as he lay helpless on the floor.

The brothers had a burning grievance against their victim and saw red when he moved in with his partner close to their mother's house.

Scott Williams, of Primrose Meadow Heath Hayes, Cannock, and his brother, of Mill Road, Brownhills, both admitted wounding with intent over the 'frenzied and unprovoked attack'.

Each received 10-year sentences at Wolverhampton Crown Court in January. Their cases reached London's Appeal Court last week as they challenged their punishments, claiming they were far too harsh.

Scott Williams of Cannock

However, Mr Justice Walker, sitting with Lord Justice Laws and Mr Justice Picken, said Mr Taylor was off work for a 'sustained period' due to his injuries and that the brothers were guilty of a savage joint attack 'in which the parts they played cannot be distinguished'.

The appeal judge added: "This was a sustained attack.

"It wasn't a sustained attack with a feather duster, but with a substantial metal object which caused horrific injuries to the victim.

Attack

"In all the circumstances, there's simply no arguable basis for thinking there should be a reduction in the sentences imposed."

During the brothers' initial sentencing, the court heard how they went on a wrecking spree, smashing doors, ornaments and a TV, and battered the victim with fists and a metal clamp.

Robert Williams held Mr Taylor down while Scott Williams hit him with the clamp, and then both joined in the attack which saw the victim hit 50 times, one striking around 30 blows and the other about 20, it was said.

Parents given top five tips on school places

Guides in capital adventure

Some of the Penkridge Guides during their Parisian challenge

GIRLS from 2nd and 3rd Penkridge Guides joined hundreds of other Girlguiding members from the Midlands on an action-packed, code-cracking adventure through Paris.

The girls, all aged 11 to 13, travelled to the French capital for Midlands Mayhem, an international adventure trip organised by Girlguiding Midlands.

Once there, they embarked on a challenge which saw them crack clues, locate hidden codes and complete challenges – all set against the clock. The clues led them across the city to famous landmarks including the Eiffel Tower and Notre-Dame Cathedral.

Molly Ayling, a Guide who went on the trip, said: "I had such a fantastic time and I will never forget all the amazing sights I have seen."

Bekki Farmer, the leader in charge, said: "This was the first time I had ever been to Paris, and leading my own first international trip there was such a memorable and unforgettable experience, filled with lots of laughs."

STAFFORDSHIRE parents with children looking to attend a secondary school in September 2016 can now apply for places.

Last year, nine out of 10 parents were allocated their first choice secondary school, with 98 per cent allocated one of their top three preferred schools.

Parents can apply for next year's secondary admissions at www.staffordshire.gov.uk/admissions and have until 31 October to submit their preferences.

To help parents, the county council has released its five top tips for making the most of the admissions process – apply for at least three schools; ensure one of the schools chosen is the catchment area school; understand the admission criteria for the chosen schools; visit the preferred school; visit www.staffordshire.gov.uk/doyourhomework for the latest schools performance data.

Easy

County Councillor Ben Adams, cabinet member for learning and skills, said: "Our admissions team deal with thousands of applications for secondary schools every year. Despite increasing pressure on school places, we still manage to offer the majority of parents their first-choice secondary school.

"We know the admissions process can be quite daunting for a lot of parents, so we do as much as we can to make the process as easy as possible. Even so, there are a few things parents can do when applying to ensure they have the best chance of being allocated one of their secondary school choices.

"Recently, there has been talk nationally of amending the admissions criteria to ensure siblings are given priority.

"In Staffordshire, we amended our admissions criteria a few years ago to give a higher priority to children who had siblings at the school they were applying for."

Matt captures the old days in art exhibition

The build-up to the big match is captured in 'Evening Kick-off'

'No Ball Games' is the title of this piece

OIL paintings showing Cannock Chase's mining industry have gone on display in Hednesford.

Matt Sayers is displaying his Remember This collection at The Museum Of Cannock Chase, Valley Road, until October 16.

And last weekend he gave visitors an insight into his creative mind when he painted another piece in front of them.

The exhibition displays 20 pieces of artwork, bringing to life the mining history of the area.

Matt says he is thrilled by the public's response so far. "It has been brilliant to see people visiting to look at my work, and hearing them discuss my paintings is fantastic," the married 34-year-old from Milton Road said. "It is my first major exhibition, so I am very pleased."

Matt works full-time as a warehouse manager and paints as a hobby, but he is hoping to pursue his passion full-time. The artist creates mainly oil on canvas paintings and is inspired by the works of LS Lowry and modern day artist Bob Barker. The collection was inspired by his love of old transport, terraced houses, smoky chimney tops and hard-working characters who make up the community. It usually takes around 18 hours to complete each piece.

The museum's next exhibition, The Fields of Battle 1914-1918, by Robert Perry, will open on October 26 and will run until December 18. On show for the first time will be a series of works commissioned for the exhibition, depicting Messines and the links with Cannock Chase in Staffordshire.

Admission to the museum is free. It is open every day from 11am to 5pm. Call 01543 877666 for more information.

School awarded £3k from safety fund

A group of Chase View pupils with the Albion coaches who will be delivering the sessions

CHASE View Primary School in Rugeley has been awarded £3,000 from the Staffordshire Police Commissioner's People Power Fund.

The fund empowers groups to find solutions to community safety problems.

In the case of Chase View, it will give pupils aged five to 11 the opportunity to take part in activities during school holidays by means of a daily sports camp provided by staff from the West Bromwich Albion Foundation. The award came following a successful bid to Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis by the school's former sport and community co-ordinator Paul Mobberley.

It was endorsed by PCSO Laura Sandy who has been involved in numerous initiatives with the school over the last year including setting up a Junior Cadets scheme to teach the older pupils about citizenship.

1,300 calls to victim service

A NEW service supporting victims of crime in Staffordshire received more than 1,300 calls in its first week.

The Staffordshire Victim Gateway was officially launched by Baroness Helen Newlove, Victims' Commissioner for England and Wales.

The scheme is run by the Citizens Advice Bureau which won a three-and-a-half year contract to deliver the service.

Now support will be provided to all victims and not just those who report crime.

It is estimated the number of people offered help will more than double from 23,000 a year to 50,000.

Baroness Newlove visited Staffordshire Police's headquarters in Stafford to officially launch the Gateway.

She has campaigned for victims since the death of her husband Garry in 2007 who was killed by a gang vandalising his car.

The CAB has centres covering all parts of Staffordshire that will provide support. Staffordshire is the first area to pioneer the CAB-led approach.

Standing ovation for dancer's final bow

Sylvie Guillem: Life in Progress, Birmingham Hippodrome

THE last dance was always going to be emotional but even formidable dance superstar Sylvie Guillem was visibly moved by the ten-minute standing ovation she received for her final performance in front of a British audience.

Even the famously no-nonsense étoile shed a tear as she made her farewell appearance as a performer after her solo performance in Mats Ek's aptly entitled Bye.

In her 50th year and after 39 of those years spent as a dancer — the Parisian former gymnast who was elevated to star dancer by Rudolf Nureyev at the Paris Opera Ballet, then in the late 1980s electrified The Royal Ballet before switching classical ballet for new challenges in modern dance — has decided to leave the stage while still at her best.

Typically, she refused to leave with a 'greatest hits' performance, championing new work and her favourite choreographers.

Guillem's one concession to past glories was the final poignant Bye, which utilised her qualities of grace, strength and passion.

In this signature work she portrayed a dowdy character escaping from an image on screen (with perfect timing) to dance without the restraints of convention.

She was dancing for joy, which is what she has done and brought to audiences for the past 40 years.

Charles (Robert Powell) watches William and Kate (Ben Righton and Jennifer Bryden)

Charles III, Birmingham Rep

IN the week that Queen Elizabeth II became Britain's longest reigning monarch, Mike Bartlett's 'future history play' ponders what could happen when she dies.

The Queen is dead, long live the King, is the cry but the winner of the Olivier Award for best new play of 2015 envisages a brief new age of turmoil.

Avowed monarchists may want to give this one a miss, as the provocative storyline sees a stubborn Charles spark the biggest constitutional crisis since the Civil War by refusing to give royal ascent to a new law to curb press freedom. Charles, like his namesake Charles I before him, goes to Westminster in all his finery to dissolve Parliament.

But as riots break out, it results in the Duchess of Cambridge slapping abdication papers in front of her father-in-law. Meanwhile, Princess Diana's ghost makes veiled appearances, separately telling both her ex-husband and eldest son that they will one day be 'the greatest king'.

Directed with customary flash and vigour by Rupert Goold, Bartlett's play is an irreverent fantasy that alludes to Shakespeare plays about rulers facing dilemmas – Richard II, Macbeth and King Lear – and often the characters speak in Shakespearean blank verse which jars somewhat with modern colloquial words, like freakout.

This production, co-directed by Whitney Mosery, benefits from a very strong central performance from stage and screen veteran Robert Powell as the principled new monarch, determined not to be 'just a Spitting Image puppet'. Powell does not impersonate His Royal Highness but suggests just enough of his characteristics to make the character familiar. The rest of the royals are presented more shallowly.

Not a crowning achievement but King Charles III is royally entertaining. It continues at Birmingham Rep until Saturday.

Village rockers you can rely on

ALBUM REVIEWS

by Leon Burakowski

Welsh rockers Stereophonics have released ninth album Keep The Village Alive

WHEN it comes to no-nonsense rock with a heart, Stereophonics prove their reliability on Keep The Village Alive.

The band, who emerged from the South Wales village of Cwmaman in the early 1990s, keep to a tried and tested formula on their ninth album.

And the blend of guitar rock, lush strings and frontman/songwriter Kelly Jones's rough but warm vocals is a winning formula.

Jones has an eye for strong characters (perhaps going back to his days as a market trader) and an ear for a memorable melody and sharp lyric, which he converts into anthemic songs which are melancholy without being sentimental about everyday people. On Village these include a cast of characters desperate to grab a little joy or escape humdrum lives.

Not as instant at 2013's hugely successful Graffiti On The Train, Village does grow with each listen. C'est La Vie is a strong opener whilst My Hero, about a friend in the forces, and the story of an adulterous couple in Mr and Mrs Smith are set to become favourites with the fans.

I Wanna Get Lost With You sums up small town hedonism whilst Fight or Flight has a hazy laid-back feel with Sing Little Sister being the essential dirty blues number.

The Stereophonics will be in concert at the Genting Arena on December 11.

Highest Point in Cliff Town by Hooton Tennis Club is jangly and likeable guitar-led indie rock from a young band out of The Wirral. The quartet's stream of consciousness lyrics amuse with their bored banality of suburban mediocrity, succinctly expressed in their odd name taken from a local sports facility.

The sound is a kind of English take on slacker rock with chiming weaving guitars casting a spell on Jasper and Always Coming Back 2 You, even getting a bit psychedelic on Standing Knees and Fall In Luv. Check them out if you like Catfish & The Bottlemen or, from earlier times, Pulp and Orange Juice. HTC play the Hare and Hounds, in Kings Heath, Birmingham, on October 28.

There is a distinct whiff of melancholy, even a hint of menace, about Marks to Prove It, the fourth album from London outfit The Maccabees. They come out punching with the title track but elsewhere a dark introspection settles. This can be atmospheric, as on the piano-tinkling Spit It Out as it builds in intensity or the delicate Slow Sun. Closing track Dawn Chorus, with brassy asides, enters Elbow territory.

Brain-frying fretwork fireworks and heavy psych riffing contrast with chilled soundscapes on instrumental album Out To Sea from Carlton Melton. The Californian trio with their wah-wah effects, droning synths and guitars can appeal to those into such esoteric bands as Faust, Hawkwind and Neu.

Teen girl band The Runaways were the link between glam and punk rock and the use of their classic youth rebel anthem Cherry Bomb on the '70s soundtrack for the Guardians of the Galaxy movie has revived interest in the group, otherwise known for featuring a very young Joan Jett.

They were brought together in Los Angeles by pop svengali Kim Fowley who exploited their look and their youth, persuading singer Cherie Currie out of her usual T-shirt and jeans into a corset in a bid to attract a male audience. However, their sheer rock 'n' roll energy went on to influence many female guitar slingers.

Snarling rock gem Cherry Bomb features on the reissue of debut The Runaways and the Japanese Singles Collection which includes a cover of Slade's Mama Weer All Crazee Now.

Cherie Currie plays the Robin 2 in Bilston on November 17 as part of her first UK tour in 35 years.

Poignant service to honour Battle heroes

A POIGNANT service was held in Cannock to mark the 75th anniversary of the the Battle of Britain.

The wreath-laying ceremony took place at the cenotaph in the town centre last Saturday morning, September 12.

It was organised by the women's section of the Royal British Legion in Cannock.

A number of dignitaries attended and members of the public watched on and took part in the two-minute silence signalled by the Cannock Salvation Army Band playing The Last Post.

Sheila Dunning, honorary poppy organiser for the Cannock women's section, said: "It was a very nice service.

"It was only a small event in terms of the people that attended but quite a few people were watching on.

Grateful

"The Battle of Britain is one of the greatest military achievements in our history," Sheila added. "It is a very important and these things need to be recognised.

"We have got to be grateful to people who gave their lives for us to have a life today.

"The Salvation Army were great and thank you to all those who came along and took part," Sheila said.

The Battle of Britain refers to the period between July and September 1940 when the German air force tried to gain air superiority over the RAF.

The RAF's victory is viewed as one of the major turning points in the conflict,which prevented Germany invading Britain.

149 callouts at fun park

WEST Midlands Ambulance Service was called out to Alton Towers nearly 150 times in three years. WMAS received 51 call outs to the theme park in 2014-15, 52 in 2013-14 and 46 in 2012-13, according to figures revealed after a Freedom of Information request. In the last financial year, paramedics responded to patients suffering falls, trauma, chest pains and heart problems. In June last year, an ambulance was called to a patients in cardiac arrest. Four people were badly injured when a carriage on the Smiler ride hit an empty one in June and 12 others were trapped for hours.

Search for firefighters despite 22 posts axed

MORE firefighters are wanted to cover round-the-clock demand in Staffordshire – two months after the fire service scrapped more than 20 posts.

A recruitment drive has been launched for at least 11 retained firefighters at stations including Cannock, Stone and Rugeley. It comes bosses axed seven retained roles at both Stone and Rugeley in July.

By Nigel Slater

Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service also cut eight full-time posts from Cannock.

The moves were part of cost-cutting measures which the authority said were needed to save it £1.1 million.

The service says the need for retained firefighters across the west of the county follows retirements and people leaving their posts. Service spokesman Michelle Hunt said: "We are still not at the capacity we need for retained firefighters.

Pushing

"People obviously retire and leave posts and we need to find cover for those positions. We do these recruitment drives about once or twice a year and this is currently under review."

Richard Williams, of the Staffordshire Fire Brigades Union, said: "There was a halt in recruitment for retained firefighters given the decisions made in July. We've been pushing to get recruitment back up across the county because we are seeing a number of pumps unavailable every day.

"The authority has obviously identified from the cuts agenda made in July what services they want to keep and what they want to do with them. Now they have got to fill those vacancies to get them up to the full numbers. We are encouraged recruitment is back up and running.

"It should have been going for at least two years and there is a massive gap to catch up.

"It is vital the public are protected and the more retained firefighters there are, the better."

Retained firefighters provide emergency response cover from their home or work base which must be within five minutes travelling time of their station. Successful applicants will take part in an initial training course and, following its completion, will attend weekly drill nights to ensure they maintain their skills.

Retained Support Officer Gary Fox, from the authority, said: "Our retained firefighters will be able to utilise their existing experience to strengthen their crew but they will also have access to a whole host of training opportunities which will boost their knowledge and expertise too.

"We want to hear from those who are a hard-working team player and I'd urge anyone who thinks they fit into that category to submit an application to join our dedicated team."

The closing date for applications is September 28.

Few officers bid as council looks to reduce costs

FEWER top officers will be needed to run Staffordshire County Council in future, if proposals are approved.

The new, slimmer structure of five directors reporting to the chief executive – it is currently six – would reduce costs.

The move would involve the creation of three new roles – a director of health and care, a director of economy, infrastructure and skills, and a director for families and communities.

Philip Atkins, leader of Staffordshire County Council, said: "After the general election we are clear what the Government's agenda will be over the coming years. We need to keep focusing on what difference we can make to the lives of residents by being innovative and creative, rather than relying on the old way of providing council services.

"This includes working more closely with partners to ensure we use wisely the £7.2 billion of taxpayers' money spent annually in Staffordshire," Councillor Atkins added.

If the proposals are approved, a special committee of cross-party councillors will be set up to agree on the recruitment process and issues such as salaries for the new roles.

Now new leader can get to work

REJOICE – the Labour leadership contest is over. Now, can we get on with the business of politics?

It has been four long months since the morning after the General Election, when a forlorn-looking Ed Miliband took responsibility for leading his party to its worst result since 1987 and bid a dignified retreat to the backbenches.

Since then Milifandom gave way to (Jeremy) Corbynmania and the three other contenders for the Labour leadership all promised a bold, new direction while doing their best to conveniently ignore their own high profile positions in the run up to their party's crushing result.

Pastime

It was difficult to take any of them seriously given that none of them ever managed to persuade Ed Miliband to change tactics and not snatch defeat from the jaws of victory.

The last four months were about Labour talking almost exclusively to and about itself. A favourite pastime for many was branding anyone who supported a rival candidate a Tory. "You like Liz Kendall? You're a Blairite and therefore a Tory."

"Oh, you prefer Jeremy Corbyn? Well that's the candidate the Tories want so you must be a Tory." And so on.

At least watching Labour leadership voters, whether full members or the £3 registered supporters, argue with each other online has had an air of authenticity to it, of passion and of a frank exchange of ideas.

Ed Miliband in Brierley Hill

New Labour leader Jeremy Corbyn

Almost every event during the General Election was stage-managed and choreographed to within an inch of its life.

People put in front of the shadow cabinet seemed to have been vetted so much they must have felt like wounded animals hoping not to be put down.

The Tories were no better, of course, but I do wonder how much more Ed Miliband could have achieved had he not spent the afternoon of the last Sunday before polling day in a cafe in Brierley Hill especially hired for the occasion and surrounded by Labour members and campaigners.

He told everyone present how there were only hours left to win the election, having made them take the best part of two hours out of their day to wait for and listen to him tell them how the clock was ticking.

Did no-one think it might have been better to actually talk to the voters, the ones who they wanted to put them into power?

Now Labour's new leader Corbyn can get to work.

There are four years and eight months until the next General Election.

And instead of just debating with each other about who within the party can win it, it might be worth listening to what the voters want and then working out how to deliver it. They've had stranger policies than that.

County pays its own tribute to Queen milestone

STAFFORDSHIRE people have been congratulating the Queen after she became the longest-reigning British monarch. Last Wednesday she passed the record set by her great-great-grandmother Queen Victoria, who reigned for 63 years, seven months and two days.

The Queen has made many trips to Staffordshire during her reign, including visits to Lichfield Cathedral, the National Memorial Arboretum, St Mary's Church and County Buildings in Stafford and more recently to the i54 site.

Philip Atkins, leader of Staffordshire County Council, said the Queen's achievement was a hugely significant milestone in British history and something of which everyone should be extremely proud.

He said: "We have welcomed Her Majesty to the county on many occasions, and I had the great pleasure of meeting her when she came to visit the County Buildings to sign her portrait on display by the grand stairway. I also saw her last year at the opening of the new Jaguar Land Rover engine plant at our i54 South Staffordshire Business Park.

The Queen - 'devoted public service'

Special

"After a lifetime of devoted public service and approaching her 89th birthday, her longevity, strength and love for her people is still testament to her popularity."

The LordLieutenant of Staffordshire, Ian Dudson, said: "Staffordshire is delighted by the milestone that Her Majesty has achieved. Everyone admires and respects the dedication, devotion and commitment that she has given to the UK and the Commonwealth throughout these 63 years.

"We fondly remember the many visits she has made to Staffordshire, most recently last year, and as I travel around the county, I am reminded on a daily basis of the love and affection in which she is held. We send her every good wish and look forward to her continuing time as our Sovereign."

Councillor Janet Eagland, chairman of Staffordshire County Council, said: "On behalf of residents throughout the county, I would like to congratulate Queen Elizabeth II on her momentous achievement." Princess Elizabeth became Queen Elizabeth II when she was 25 on the death of her father King George VI on February 6, 1952.

In December 2007 the Queen became the longest living British monarch, overtaking Victoria, who died when she was 81, and in May 2011 she became the second-longest reigning monarch in British history when she overtook George III.

Villagers tell of delight at award

WOMBOURNE has been named Staffordshire's Best Kept Village this year.

Residents are delighted, having made it their goal to improve on the Highly Commended in 2013, and last year's third place.

Julie Lawton, chairwoman of Wombourne's Best Kept Village Committee, said after the previous two years the committee felt that things were definitely moving in the right direction, and it was a case of retaining the best features from last year's campaign, addressing the detailed comments from the judges.

Speaking about the announcement Wombourne had won, she said: "When third place Brewood and second place Kinver were announced, we were convinced that we were not even going to get a mention."

Panel plea on setting councillor allowances

CANNOCK Chase Council is looking to appoint local people to serve on the independent remuneration panel to assist in reviewing its members' allowances scheme.

The panel considers and makes recommendations relating to the allowances paid to councillors, together with recommendations about the roles and responsibilities for which allowances should be payable.

There are up to three vacancies, and applications are sought by lay persons, local residents, or people who work in the area.

Local government experience is not necessary but applicants must be able to demonstrate they have an open mind, a strong commitment to the district and local matters, and no political affiliations.

Monitoring officer Alistair Welch said: "Councillors are not paid a salary, but receive allowances towards their time and costs incurred in acting as a councillor.

Initial

"The panel members are fair-minded local people without direct links to the council, who regularly review the levels of the councillors' allowances to ensure that they remain appropriate."

The panel will meet three to four times between October 2015 and January 2016, normally during office hours, with any recommendations made by the panel applying for two years. Appointments will be for an initial term of three years, for which an allowance of £220 per annum will be paid.

Anyone interested in applying should send a CV together with a covering letter explaining why they think they would be a suitable candidate to The Monitoring Officer, c/o Democratic Services, Cannock Chase Council, Civic Centre, PO Box 28, Beecroft Road, Cannock WS11 1BG or email memberservices@cannockchasedc.gov.uk

Closing date is Friday, September 25.

Winners set for store spree

Store staff chat with customers on the opening day at JYSK Cannock

THREE lucky readers can look forward to a shopping spree after entering our JYSK competition.

We had a tremendous response to the competition which was run in the week of the Scandinavian home furnishing retailer launching its new Cannock store.

The winner of the £250 voucher is Mrs Nikki Busby of Walsall Road, Great Wyrley. Two runners-up each receive a £125 voucher. They are Mrs M Sammons of Common View, Burntwood, and Annette Walker of Stagborough Way, Cannock.

The correct answer was b) PASTRY. Thank you to everyone who entered. JYSK's move into Cannock is part of its UK expansion programme. It has more than 2,200 stores in 37 countries.

Cannock was identified as being of particular interest given Wyrley Brook Retail Park's ability to serve 40,000 households in the area.

"Our stores have always had a following with great value for money shoppers, who are looking to add Scandinavian style to their home – perfect for Cannock," said JYSK country manager Steve Stenhouse.

Driver knocked unconscious after M6 Toll crash

A MAN was knocked out and was cut free from his car after a crash on the M6 Toll. The road was closed for several hours following the crash between Junctions T6 and T7 at around 7.40pm on Saturday. A man in his 20s suffered a short loss of consciousness and was cut free. A woman passenger, in her 20s, had cuts and bruises to her face and a fractured nose. Both were taken to New Cross. A man in the second car was discharged at the scene.

Kay can sleep easy after contest win

Kay Turner and her son Charlie

A MOTHER-of-three from Burntwood has been rewarded for going above and beyond as part of a national achievements competition.

Kay Turner, aged 34, won a new bed for winning the competition. She was nominated in secret by close friend Zarana Dickinson for her efforts to raise money for the UK charity Polycystic Kidney Disease and was chosen as the winner by bed manufacturer Silentnight.

Both her husband Craig, and four-year-old son Charlie, suffer from the kidney disease.

She has raised £1,400 for the charity in the last 12 months through various events, including a half marathon.

Mrs Turner said: "I'm still in shock, I couldn't believe it when I was told I'd been chosen. It was so lovely to be nominated and it made it even more surprising when I found out Silentnight had selected me."

Nick Booth, marketing director at Silentnight Group, said: "Kay's nomination really stood out though, and we felt she deserved a new comfy bed to help her get some quality sleep."

£40k paid wrongly to worker hurt in accident

A FORK truck driver who claimed disability benefits due to an accident more than 30 years ago was overpaid by £40,000 as he was no longer entitled to the money.

By Deborah Hardiman

Glenn Sankey, of Ash Lane, Great Wyrley, correctly put in a claim for mobility allowance to get a vehicle to help get out and about. He suffered leg and back injuries in 1981.

But Wolverhampton Crown Court heard he defrauded taxpayers to the tune of £40,078 between February 1997 and November 2014 as he failed to tell the authorities when he recovered and no longer needed assistance.

Mr Richard McConaghy, prosecuting, said: "This is not a matter fraudulent from the outset. In essence it was to pay for a mobility vehicle which the crown says was not a problem.

"It came with the contingent that Sankey was to inform the authorities of any change to the original claim made in 1993. The change was employment that he obtained in 1997."

Mr McConaghy said certain types of employment would have undermined the claim, such as the handling of metal sheets which the defendant went on to carry out. He also did forklift truck work.

Under surveillance by the Department for Work and Pensions specialist fraud unit, he was filmed 'walking without concerns'.

Sankey, aged 52, admitted dishonesty at a previous hearing. Mr Delroy Henry, defending, said: "We acknowledge this matter passes the custody threshold."

Sankey was handed a 42-week prison sentence suspended for two years, along with 12 months of supervision. He must also carry out 300 hours unpaid work.

PERSONALISED LEARNING EXPERIENCE

WE are a small school - this means we can offer a personalised and individual learning experience for young people that only a small school like ours with a totally dedicated staff can give.

It can best be described as being part of a caring family, in which guidance and support are ever present, with all pupils being given the opportunity to achieve their highest possible aspirations that fully prepare them for adult life.

We place a high priority on the spiritual, moral, social and cultural development of our students, and, as a result, they have a good understanding of how to communicate, behave and appreciate other cultures.

Uniquely, we were nominated as a pilot school to work with Yamaha's class band project, which is now entering its fourth year. The sports facilities at Norton Canes High School are outstanding, and we boast a purpose built theatre. Recently we were proud to unveil four new facilities: an 18-seater training hairdressing salon; a brand new, free to use fitness studio; 'Gallery Nine', , which promotes the creative talent of all of our students and in 2014 we unveiled a completely renovated Food Technology teaching area.

In our recent inspection, inspectors noted that the progress of the students currently in the school has 'accelerated sharply and is now in line with expectation'. They reported that the school is 'rigorous in identifying and supporting those who arrive in school at low levels, or who fall behind' and they praised the 'decisive action' taken to deal with poor performance and the way in which the school 'rigorously manages' the performance of teachers. We will continue to work hard to exceed the national averages across all areas and have recently created time within the school day to further accelerate learning in Literacy and Numeracy. The inspectors noted the improvements made to the curriculum to increase challenge and interest and were impressed with the good behaviour of students. All students feel safe in school, and this is a strength within the report.

The relationships between staff and students were described by inspectors as 'noticeably strong' adding to students' motivation and commitment. There is a tremendous sense of pride within our school community and a united desire and drive to do the very best for our pupils in all aspects of their education.

Please visit us on a normal school day and see for yourself, we guarantee a warm and friendly welcome.

Norton Canes High School has strong links with the local community. On September 7, we were awarded 'Winning School' in the Community Council of Staffordshire's Best Kept Village Schools' Competition. At the award ceremony, students were praised for their outstanding contributions. Six students are to be rewarded with a helicopter ride over the National Memorial Arboretum, courtesy of the The Leavesley Group.

Highest ever pass rate

IMPROVEMENTS continue to be made at Norton Canes High after pupils recorded the highest ever pass rate in English.

The school has seen a rise by almost 20 per cent with last year's 50 per cent pass rate at A* - C level being beaten by a 67 per cent pass level in 2015. Students and teachers alike were also celebrating high performances in other subjects such as Religious Education, 100 per cent pass rate with 63 per cent achieving an A or A*, Child Development, 92 per cent A* - C, Art 85 per cent A* - C, Music 100 per cent A* - C, History 78% A* - C, ICT 70 per cent, A* - C, Resistant Materials 70 per cent and PE at 73 per cent A* - C.

Headteacher Sara Birchall said: "Congratulations to hard working pupils and staff. We are welcoming the majority of our pupils back into our excellent sixth form this year where we will continue to build on our outstanding A Level results."

"The Sixth Form area has been doubled in size to accommodate the ever-growing number of students wishing to continue their education with us."

Former footballer sacked from prison over assault

A FORMER professional footballer was sacked from his job as a prison officer for twice punching an inmate in the face and hitting him with his baton, an employment tribunal heard.

Former Preston North End striker Vernon Allatt was fired from Featherstone Prison.

'Big Vern', who also played professionally for Crewe Alexandra, Stockport, Halifax, Rochdale and Bolton, later turned out for Hednesford Town.

The 56-year-old was dismissed after trouble broke out between four members of staff and a prisoner 'prone to violence' on June 8 last year. He was sacked amid claims he used inappropriate force to restrain the inmate and later falsified his account of what happened.

Vernon Allatt

An employment tribunal in Birmingham heard this week how trouble broke out after the prisoner was spotted using a telephone in the corridor but refused to end the call and return to his cell.

Blows

CCTV footage of the incident allegedly shows the prisoner talking on the phone, leaning on a broom, but then lashing out as officers approach him.

Moments later, it is said that Mr Allatt swung his baton around five times at the prisoner, with two blows landing, and that he also punched him twice in the face. Other officers were said to be holding the prisoner's arms and legs as he lay on the floor.

Giving evidence, former Featherstone governor Russell Trent, who is now based in Wales, said he stood by his decision to dismiss Mr Allatt after an investigation.

But, under cross-examination he said he was unaware that the same inmate had previously attacked another officer who had ended up in hospital.

Mr Allatt , who lives in Rugeley, was dismissed by the Prison Service in January this year. The prisoner at the centre of the dispute was subsequently convicted of assault in relation to the incident.

Horse maimings are subject of talk

GEORGE Edalji and the Wyrley horse maimings will be the subject of a talk to Cheslyn Hay & District Local History Society next week.

Former Staffordshire Museum curator Alan Walker MBE will address visitors at the Salem, in High Street, from 7.30pm on Thursday, September 24.

The evening will also coincide with the launch of a book about the tale – made into an ITV drama starring Martin Clunes earlier this year. Written by Alan Jones, it is called The Edaljis: A Family in Turmoil.

Admission to next week's talk is £1.50 to include refreshments.

School buys shoes for pupils not toeing line

Robert Thurstance, aged 12, with his mum Janet Wilshaw and the shoes his school says are not acceptable to wear

A SCHOOL bought and loaned out dozens of shoes for pupils who turned up in the wrong footwear as part of a 'back to basics' crackdown on uniforms.

Cannock Chase High School has tightened up its uniform policy in a bid to raise standards, banning brand names such as Nike, Adidas, Reebok and Vans.

The school approached stores for shoes in anticipation of some students not complying with the rules. When 50 students returned to class in 'inappropriate' shoes, they were informed at an assembly and their parents were contacted. They were given a further day to obtain the correct shoes.

Those who failed to do so and refused to wear the shoes bought in by the school were placed in isolation. But some parents claim the school has gone too far.

Janet Wilshaw, of Beech Tree Lane, Cannock, whose 12-year-old son Robert was told his black leather Vans shoes were unsuitable, said: "The school has really gone over the top. I completely understand where they are coming from as far as standards are concerned but these shoes were perfectly smart. I'd polished them myself that morning. I don't see why Clarks and Hush Puppy brands are all right but not smart sports brands."

Headteacher Iain Turnbull said: "Our uniform policy is just one element of our traditional approach to education that sets the highest expectations for all our students."

"For those parents who were unable to rectify the incorrect shoes, we have purchased and loaned a number of shoes that they can use until they are able to replace.

"A small number – one per cent – chose not to borrow suitable footwear and were placed in isolation to complete their school work.

"We have reaffirmed for parents in all of our correspondence our back to basics approach to education, which is based on mutual respect, standards of uniform, attendance and academic attainment."

House fire total revealed

THERE have been nine house fires in Staffordshire in six months, figures show. The county's fire and rescue service has released details of incidents since 2010 including the causes. Out of the nine incidents between January and June, two were started deliberately, two were caused by a faulty appliance and two were caused by cooking. Another was a chimney fire, one began when hot coal fell from an open fire and another was put down to careless disposal of flammable items. There were 15 house fires recorded last year, 13 in 2013, 16 in 2012, 23 in 2011 and 21 in 2010.

Heroin is blamed as drug deaths increase

THE number of people dying from drug abuse is rocketing in the West Midlands region, latest figures have revealed.

From 2009 to 2011, there were 89 deaths in Cannock Chase, South Staffordshire, Stafford, Wyre Forest and the Black Country. However, this increased to 134 between 2012 and 2014.

Across England and Wales, there were 3,346 drug poisoning deaths during that period – the highest since comparable records began in 1993.

Health bosses admit there is a growing problem with drugs but insist they are working to tackle it.

Experts say it is easier than ever to buy heroin, which is also purer and therefore more dangerous.

There were eight people in each of the three time periods to suffer drug-related deaths in Cannock Chase, and in Stafford the figure went from 12, to four, to 13.

Highest

Two people in South Staffordshire died in each of the first two periods, compared with four from 2012 to 2014.

Across England and Wales, the mortality rate from drug misuse was the highest ever recorded at 39.9 deaths per million population. In England there was a 17 per cent rise in the drug misuse mortality rate in 2014, to 39.7 per million population.

And men were more than 2.5 times more likely to die from drug misuse than women, with 58 and 21 deaths per million population for males and females respectively.

Rosanna O'Connor, director of alcohol, drugs and tobacco at Public Health England, said the figures were of 'great concern'.

By Adam Burling

She added: "The increased global availability and purity of heroin is clearly having an impact in England.

"Fewer people are using heroin but the harms are increasingly concentrated among older, more vulnerable users and those not recently in touch with their local drug treatment services. Reassuringly, overall drug use has also declined, and treatment services have helped many people to recover, but these figures show the need for an enhanced effort."

The number rose from 14, to 15 to 25 across the three periods in Walsall, and in Wolverhampton it went from 14 in the first two periods, to 26.

Sandwell was the only area where the number fell, with 20 drug-related deaths from 2006 to 2008, compared with 17 in 2012-14.

Wyre Forest's total went from seven, to five, to eight.

In Dudley, 24 deaths were classed as being related to drug misuse from 2006 to 2008, and this fell to 19 in 2009-11 before rising again to 33 from 2012 to 2014.

Dudley Council health chief Councillor Rachel Harris said: "We have very good integrated treatment services in Dudley that support people to recover from drug misuse."

County's 999 crews in 100 crashes in year

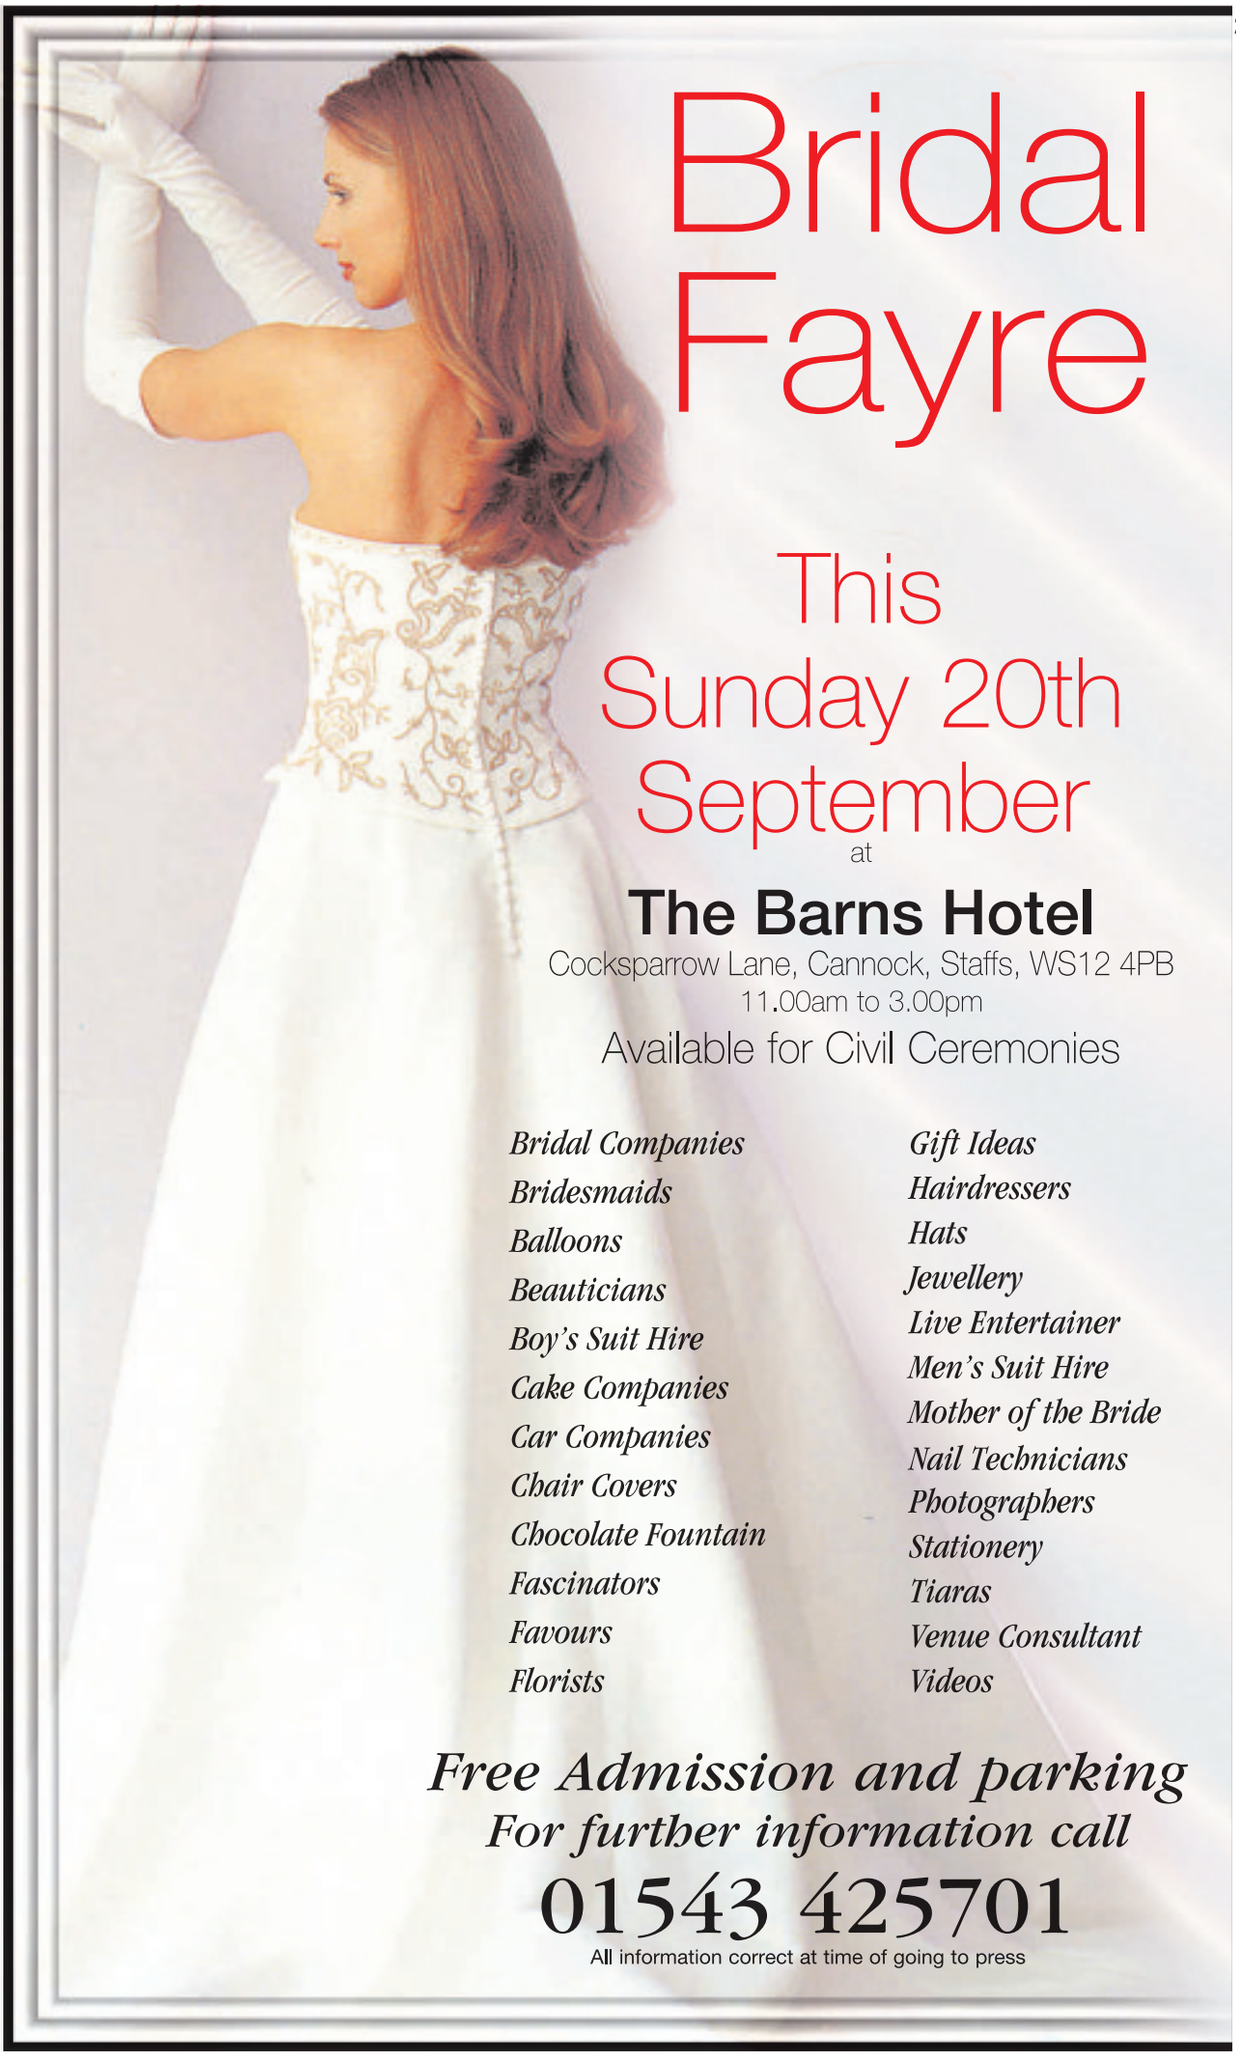
AMBULANCES and rapid response vehicles have been involved in more than 100 crashes in Staffordshire since last year, figures show.

Vehicles owned by West Midlands Ambulance Service were involved in 115 collisions in the county between January 2014 and August this year. The figures came to light following a request under the Freedom of Information Act.

Among the incidents recorded, a rapid response vehicle was in collision with a pedestrian in May this year and an ambulance collided with a cyclist in March last year. Collisions between ambulances and animals were also recorded in May this year and February last year.

But WMAS spokeswoman Claire Brown said the emergency service had the lowest accident rate of any ambulance service in the UK.

She said: "The trust responds to almost a million 999 calls a year with our ambulance vehicles covering a staggering 15-and-a-half million miles in 12 months – the equivalent distance of circumnavigating the Earth 622 times. All of our front-line emergency staff undertake an intensive two-week driver training course to teach them the skills to drive using blue lights and sirens."



Poor response to bursary scheme celebrating Stephen

A BURSARY scheme to celebrate the life and achievements of Stephen Sutton has received only a handful of applications.

By Marion Brennan

Burntwood Town Council set up the £2,000 scheme, aimed at people aged 11 to 19 who live within the town's boundaries, in June. But three months on, only two people have applied for the cash. The scheme closes at the end of this month.

Burntwood South county councillor Jeff Sheriff said he was 'surprised and disappointed' by the poor response and appealed for an 11th hour surge in entries.

"It is surprising because of who that young man was – even now there are yellow ribbons around the town in his memory – and because he was so widely known," he said. "I suspect the bursary hasn't been sufficiently advertised."

The bursary is intended to help fund opportunities to develop talent and can be used for a variety of projects, including the purchase of specialist equipment or clothing, research projects, extra tuition or coaching, competition fees and travel.

Subject areas cover art, photography, acting, film making, music, dance, academic excellence and sports. Stephen, who attended Chase Terrace Technology College, captured the world's imagination with his positive attitude in the face of death with his bucket list of 46 things he wanted to do before he died.

His four-year battle with bowel cancer ended on May 14, 2014.

Full details and the application form may be requested or collected from Burntwood Town Council's office or downloaded from www.burntwood-tc.gov.uk

The council is located at Unit 1, Lambourne House, Bridge Cross Road, Burntwood WS7 2BX. Email townclerk@burntwood-tc.gov.uk or call the Town Clerk on 01543 677166.

The closing date for applications is Wednesday, September 30.

Burntwood Lions president Dave Higgs with MP Michael Fabricant

New beat for police inspector

A POLICE inspector has taken up a role that sees him cover parts of Burntwood and Chasetown.

Rob Neeson is the new Lichfield District Local Policing Team Commander, having previously worked as the East Staffordshire LPT inspector. "I'm really keen to get stuck in and continue the good work carried out to drive down crime and anti-social behaviour across the area," he said.

Rob Neeson

"We will continue to work hard to address the issues that affect our local communities."

Since joining Staffordshire Police in 2007, the 43-year-old has worked in various uniformed roles throughout the East Staffordshire and Tamworth areas.

He is married with two children and enjoys films and sport of all varieties.

Start date for £63k repairs

A £63,000 scheme to replace damaged footpaths and kerbs in Burntwood will take place this autumn.

The work in Ogley Hay Road, a main route through the town, is expected to start on October 23.

Life-saving equipment handover

A FORMAL presentation has taken place at Chasetown Methodist Church of an Automated External Defibrillator (AED).

The life-saving equipment on the church railings in Lawnswood Avenue is available for the public to use.

This equipment can be a life saver where someone is suffering a heart attack and its availability in the community can save precious minutes before paramedics can arrive.

Dave Higgs, president of Burntwood Lions, made the presentation in the presence of MP Michael Fabricant, town council chairman Pamela Stokes, and other local town councillors.

The Lions provided £1,658.10 for the purchase of the AED and the metal cabinet in which it is secured.

Firm looks to expand in its new premises

A FIRE alarm system and electrical contracting firm is planning an expansion programme after moving to larger premises in Burntwood.

Morganrose Electrifire Ltd has moved to a 2,098 sq ft unit at Zone 4 on Burntwood Business Park, which is owned and managed by London & Cambridge Properties (LCP). It has signed a five-year lease for the unit, which is almost four times the size of its previous base at Chasewater Heath Business Park.

Paula James

Managing director Ian Rose said: "We wanted to stay in the area because of the accessibility to the motorway network and the majority of our staff live locally."

Paula James, industrial lettings manager of LCP, said: "We work hard to establish good relationships with all our tenants from the outset, so after an initial inquiry about the availability of units, we helped Morganrose Electrifire find the right unit to continue its business but with an eye to future expansion."

Anyone interested in working for Morganrose-should send their CV to info@morganrose.co.uk

‘I simply love to make people laugh’

AFTER a three-year absence when he was off making hit TV shows, Michael McIntrye is now returning to what he does best: stand-up comedy.

London comedian Michael McIntyre can pull bigger crowds than most pop stars

This autumn, he is embarking on a major nationwide arena tour with his new show entitled Happy & Glorious. Travelling the length and breadth of the UK and Ireland, the tour confirms Michael’s position as the most popular comedian on these islands. He’ll line-up at Birmingham’s Barclaycard Arena tomorrow and Saturday, then again on September 25 and 26.

His previous tour, Showtime, was the biggest-seller in the world in 2012, playing to over 640,000 people. That included a record-equalling ten-night residency at London’s 02 Arena, matching the figure set by pop superstar Rihanna the previous year. This tour may prove even more successful.

Michael has also thrived in the DVD market. He has so far released three best-selling DVDs. 2008’s Live and Laughing was the biggest selling UK debut stand-up DVD of its time; Hello Wembley, which in 2009 became the fastest-selling UK stand-up DVD of all time, a record it still holds; and 2012’s Showtime, which beat its competitors to the Christmas Number One spot.

He has been making a name for himself on the international stage, too. In 2013 he performed to sold-out arenas in South Africa, Dubai, Norway, Australia, New Zealand and Singapore. Michael’s performance to an audience of 9,000 in Johannesburg was the largest ever comedy show in Africa, and his run in Dubai won him the Time Out Best Night Out award.

It’s no surprise that his live show is such a hit all over the world, Michael dazzles audiences with fantastically funny material drawn from his life as a husband and father-of-two.

The comedian, who has won enough awards to endanger the stability of his mantelpiece, adds: “I can’t wait to be playing once again to a big room that is really enjoying the show. I’m looking forward to thinking, ‘If you’re loving that, wait till you hear this!’ I’m bringing everything to this show – voices, physical comedy, the works. I simply love making people laugh.”

Dance duo’s Last Tango

KEEP dancing but only together for a little while longer... ex-Strictly Come Dancing professionals Vincent Simone and Flavia Cacace-Mistry bring The Last Tango, their farewell show, to Birmingham Hippodrome from Tuesday to Saturday, September 22 to 26.

The Italian dance duo who met in England, famed for their poise and passionate performances, have been dancing together for 20 years.

During that period they were World Dance title holders, starred in their own West End shows and tours — including Midnight Tango and Dance ‘Til Dawn — and most famously participated as professionals in several series of Strictly. Flavia won the celebrated Glitterball trophy in 2012 partnering Olympic gymnast Louis Smith.

“We have had such a fantastic time,” said Flavia, who is married to her former Strictly partner Jimi Mistry, the Coronation Street actor who graduated from drama school in Birmingham.

“It’s an incredible experience to perform live in front of our wonderful audience night after night, but all good things must come to an end.”

Vincent, who this summer married long-term girlfriend Susan Duddy, added: “The last few years have been amazing. It may be our final theatre tour but we’re going to go out with a bang.”

Native Monster online writer Steven Ecott took a dance workshop with Vincent and Flavia – watch the video and see how he got on, plus find out more about the show, at native monster.com

Sancho celebrated by a leading actor

PATTERSON Joseph brings his elegant one-man show Sancho - An Act of Remembrance to Birmingham Rep’s Studio venue for four nights from Tuesday. RSC and National Theatre actor Patterson also wrote this celebration of Charles Ignatius Sancho. Born on a slave ship in the 18th century, Sancho became an author and composer, and was painted by Gainsborough.

King Charles III is in the main house until Saturday. Sarah Cameron performs dark Scottish fantasy The Red Chair at The Door for three nights from tonight (Thu). Stan’s Cafe give movies a surreal Japanese twist in A Translation of Shadows at The Door Monday-Wednesday.

Weird hit podcast brought to stage

A QUIRKY US podcast that has won a cult following among sci-fi fans and connoisseurs of weirdness is making the transition to the stage in Birmingham as part of a UK tour.

Welcome To Night Vale is a spoof radio broadcast from a strange desert town, a kind of Lake Wobegon meets Twin Peaks where aliens are likely to be among your neighbours.

Written by Joseph Fink and Jeffrey Cranor, the stage version will feature material not used in the podcast and will feature the soothing tones of the host Cecil Palmer, played by Cecil Baldwin. It’s at the New Alexandra Theatre on Tuesday.

Classic rock is in the spotlight

THERE is an impressive array of gigs for fans of 1960s and 70s rock over the next few days.

It starts tomorrow night (Fri) with an evening with Crosby, Stills & Nash. David Crosby, Stephen Stills and Graham Nash have each been inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame twice – with Crosby, Stills & Nash, and with The Byrds, Buffalo Springfield, and The Hollies, respectively.

Meanwhile, the Robin 2 in Bilston has drummer John Coghlan’s Quo performing vintage Status Quo tomorrow, John Lees’ Barclay James Harvest on Sunday and Stackridge on their Final Bow tour on Tuesday.

The Walker Art Gallery collection is in an impressive Victorian building

Mathew Street Pic: VisitEngland /Mark McNulty

Albert Dock houses a range of restaurants, shops, bars, museums and galleries

Let it be Liverpool, vibrant home of The Beatles and a whole lot more

THE Cavern was rammed, the moptops were rocking I Want To Hold Your Hand, it was only the Spanish accent between songs that made the illusion fade.

by Leon Burakowski

Welcome to International Beatles Week. I was sharing a famous brick cellar on Merseyside with a united nations of Fab Four aficionados enjoying Barcelona's tribute to The Beatles, The Flaming Shakers, having just squeezed past Japan's answer to the famous four posing for photos in Mathew Street.

You could be forgiven for thinking that every week is International Beatles Week in Liverpool, where the most famous pop group ever still play a vital role in the tourist industry. But organisers of the special week which takes over several venues in the city, including the three stages based on the network of cellars that birthed the Beatles, is a massive draw.

It was pure coincidence that I happened to be visiting during the Fab Four feast but the festival is obviously popular with the die-hard devotees. Most of Scandinavia's Beatles fans seemed to be staying at the same hotel as me.

Mathew Street, at the epicentre of Liverpool's Cavern Quarter near shopping destination Liverpool One, is one big photo opp with its bricks engraved with the name of every band that played the legendary venue, from Billy J Kramer to Oasis. Meanwhile, John Lennon's statue nonchalantly leans on the wall and seems to watch the crowds with mild amusement.

The street has several pubs once frequented by 'Four Lads Who Shook The World' plus an array of shops and venues selling Beatles memorabilia.

But there is more to Liverpool than The Beatles. The city was long Britain's most important port and remains a cosmopolitan and culturally vibrant hub.

Waterfront

It's monumental waterfront buildings confirm the city as Britain's equivalent to New York. At Albert Dock the red pillared warehouses have been converted into bars, restaurants, galleries and shops. It also has Merseyside Maritime Museum, revealing its sea-going history and its infamous role in the slave trade at its third floor International Slavery Museum.

Liverpool's cultural offering is substantial with Tate Liverpool at Albert Dock and the Walker Art Gallery on William Brown Street. The Walker has a superb collection of 500 pieces including work by Rembrandt, Rubens, to Lowry and Hockney.

The fascinating World Museum nearby is currently the only British venue for Mayas: Revelation of an Endless Time, an enthralling exhibition on loan from Mexico (until October 18). All are free, though the Tate charges for special exhibitions.

With St George's Hall opposite, the Walker forms part the most impressive array of Victorian civic architecture in Britain. The three main city theatres, The Playhouse, The Royal Court and Empire are all nearby, just a few yards from Lime Street rail station.

With its art and architecture, but most of all its irreverent quirkiness — such as the multi-coloured Dazzle Ferry painted by Sgt Pepper artist Sir Peter Blake and the zip-wire over busy Church Street — Liverpool is a city that never fails to impress.

The lobby at Hampton by Hilton Liverpool City Centre

I stayed at the Hampton by Hilton Liverpool City Centre Hotel, a few minutes walk from Albert Dock and the city centre. It is located on the edge of the up-and-coming Baltic Quarter next to the city's only brew pub The Baltic Exchange.

Every guest at Hampton by Hilton receives a bundle of amenities, including complimentary hot breakfast, free wireless internet and access to the fitness centre. Each contemporary guest room has a queen-sized bed and many offer a deluxe sofa bed, ideal for families. Parking (charged) is available.

CHOICE

Michelle Dockery

Downton Abbey (ITV, 9pm)

All good things must come to an end, and sadly this is the final six-part run of writer Julian Fellowes' globally successful period drama. However, there promises to be plenty of twists and turns before the regulars close the doors for good in a few weeks. In the first offering, Mary's past catches up with her when an unwelcome visitor delivers an ultimatum. While Violet is on the warpath thanks to news about the running of Downton Hospital, those below stairs discover social changes are endangering their futures. And Daisy's best intentions at the Mallerton House auction don't quite pay off. With a top drawer cast including Maggie Smith, Hugh Bonneville and Michelle Dockery, this promises to be unmissable TV.

Gareth is stripping away the backing

Singing a cappella is the ultimate test of any choir according to Gareth Malone.

"Only once you've stripped away all those musical crutches that a backing track offers – it's possible to truly see, and test, the group's quality."

Originally used in religious circles, a cappella (Italian for "in the manner of the chapel") is music performed by a group or solo singer without any instrumental accompaniment.

It has become increasingly popular in recent years, with talent shows such as The X Factor challenging singers to perform a cappella to get a true indication of the power and range of their voices before making a decision on their futures.

The style has also gained popularity thanks to the 2012 film Pitch Perfect in which all-girl singing group The Bellas take on their male rivals in a campus competition.

Malone, the man behind BBC2's The Choir – which won two TV Baftas – and Gareth's All Star Choir which saw a group of celebrity singers score a No.1 last year in aid of Children in Need, is using the a cappella as the inspiration for his latest series, as he embarks on a search for the nation's most entertaining amateur group.

But although Malone has made it clear that musicianship and technical ability are important, he will also be looking for funny and astonishing performances, including some choreography and gymnastics, that could turn groups into viral stars.

Therefore The Naked Choir is expected to cover a wide variety of genres, with choirs and singing groups from gospel, barbershop, hip hop, doo wop and more all encouraged to enter at the audition stage earlier this year.

The entrants have now been whittled down to eight groups to compete in the six-part series, which will focus on their preparations for performances at famous public venues in front of big audiences.

A jury of carefully selected music experts have the final say and will decide which choirs stay in the competition and which go home.

The Naked Choir is the first commission for Malone since controller Kim Shillinglaw took charge of BBC2 in April last year.

"Gareth's energy and enthusiasm are infectious," she said.

Twenty Twenty's Tim Carter has executive produced the series, and is also clearly excited to be working with Malone.

"We've seen Gareth create choirs from scratch," he adds.

"Now he's going to lift the lid on a remarkably vibrant and creative British amateur singing scene."

"The stripped-back performances will feature no backing tracks or musical instruments in a bid to pose the ultimate test of vocal dexterity, creativity and ingenuity."

Tonight, a London community choir, an Essex gospel group, a sextet of Southampton students and female barbershoppers from Portsmouth attempt to harmonise their way into the competition's next stage.

Will they hit the right note with Gareth and judges? Or will their performance tonight be their swan song?

The Naked Choir with Gareth Malone, Tuesday, BBC2, 9pm

BEST OF THE REST

MONDAY
The Gadget Show
Channel 5, 7pm
If you have an insatiable love of gizmos, then the good news is Jason Bradbury, Amy Williams and the team are back with a new run of this ever engaging strand. As always they will be reviewing the latest technological devices on the market, including a behind-the-scenes look at gaming channel The Diamond Mindcart.

Doc Martin
ITV, 9pm
Fans of this ever engaging saga had a long wait between series, but it was worth it as Martin Clunes's eponymous medic is the best way to lift the spirits after the horrors of Monday. Yes, there's more of the usual picture postcard seaside shots, all the old favourites, and a few new ones to keep the doc on his toes, but that format never outstays its welcome. This week, Ellingham moves out of the Surgery to give Louisa space, which leaves a doting Mrs Tishell worried that he won't be able to take care of himself. Elsewhere, the ever useless PC Penhale helps Janice babysit, and Al finds out about Bert's behaviour. There are bailiffs at the restaurant, and it doesn't look like they're after fish and chips.

TUESDAY
Deals, Wheels and Steals
ITV, 7.30pm
If you're a fan of Top Gear and Bargain Hunt, then imagine a cross between the two and you get the idea behind this new series. The format is simple: car dealers compete against each other to bag the best bargain motor and sell it for a profit. Of course it's going to take a lot of ingenuity for the participants to stay one step ahead of their rivals, as this opening episode proves. New dealer Jim goes up against more experienced traders to prove he's got what it takes to cut it in this dog eat dog world. May the best man, or woman, win.

WEDNESDAY
Midwinter of the Spirit
ITV, 9pm
This new supernatural drama is sure to raise goosebumps, as it follows the work of Merrily Watkins, one of the few women priests working as an exorcist. After losing her adulterous husband Sean in a car crash, Merrily seeks refuge in her job, but it provides little comfort when her 16-year-old daughter rejects her religious beliefs and is led into the path of danger. To complicate matters further, the local police ask for Merrily's advice in the investigation of a grisly murder, and it's not long before she's risking life and limb to get to the bottom of the mystery as she starts to wonder whether satanists could be operating in the city. The stellar cast includes Anna Maxwell Martin and David Threlfall.

Midwinter of the Spirit, Wednesday, ITV, 9pm

THURSDAY
Who Do You Think You Are?
BBC1, 9pm
BBC news correspondent Frank Gardner sets out to find out whether there is any truth in his late mother's claim that her side of the family first arrived in Britain with the Normans. During his search for answers, he manages to trace his ancestry all the way back to his 10-time great-grandfather Sir Michael Stanhope - a knight of the Tudor court, who was accused of treason. But the journey does not end there, as he gets much closer to his mother's suspicions than he could ever have imagined.

FRIDAY
Strictly Come Dancing
BBC1, 9pm
Tess Daly and Claudia Winkleman host the first of this weekend's two live shows, which sees six of the 15 famous faces join forces with their professional partners to battle it out on the dance floor and convince judges Len Goodman, Craig Revel Horwood, Bruno Tonioli and Darcey Bussell that they can trip the light fantastic with style and grace. This year's participants are Jeremy Vine, Katie Derham, Ainsley Harriott, Kellie Bright, Georgia May Foote, Carol Kirkwood, Peter Andre, Daniel O'Donnell, Anthony Ogogo, Jay McGuiness, Anita Rani, Jamelia, Helen George, Iwan Thomas and Kirsty Gallacher. But who will follow in the fleet-footed steps of 2014 winner Caroline Flack?

Piers Morgan's Life Stories
ITV, 9pm
Punk icon John Lydon, perhaps still best known as Johnny Rotten of Sex Pistols fame - talks to Piers about his life and career. The musician looks back on his controversial rise to fame and notoriety in the band that sent shockwaves through the music industry during the late 1970s, and made headline news with anti-establishment hits such as Anarchy in the UK and God Save the Queen.

C-Max offers most

By Ian Donaldson

Style seems to win most battles these days when a family decides more room is needed to keep the kids happy in the back of the car.

It's a victory often won by a big, tall bruiser of a car that looks ready for the urban jungle or a trip up the nearest mountain. An SUV in other words; something that adds a touch of the big outdoors to the daily grind.

But there is an alternative. It won't gather admiring glances at the school gates but it will almost certainly be cheaper to run, more practical and, if you're only moderately lucky, be much nicer to drive.

Which brings us to the latest version of the Ford Grand C-MAX, fresh from a mid-life makeover and about as trim as a sensible seven seater ever could, with Ford's handsome new grille (looking more than ever like an Aston Martin) and sharper style to the headlights, while Ford watching anoraks will spot a simpler look to the rear.

Inside, there is a hike in apparent quality of the materials you touch or look at, along with fewer switches and a big touch screen in the manner of the latest Ford Focus.

Under the bonnet the big news is the availability of a new 1.5 litre diesel engine that produces more power and fewer pollutants than the larger, 1.6 litre unit it replaces.

You can also choose from two versions of Ford's fine 1.0 litre EcoBoost petrol engine or a 2.0 litre diesel. Prices range from £20,295 to £27,615 and are £1,600 more than Ford asks for the smaller C-MAX, which looks a reasonable premium for the Grand C-MAX's third row of seats and the convenience of sliding rear doors in place of the conventionally opening pair on the 14cms (5.5 inches) shorter car.

Both models have more than 20 storage spaces scattered around the cabin, which should be quieter thanks to thicker side window glass, more absorbent seals on the tailgate and extra soundproofing under the bonnet, with extra attention paid to the diesel models.

Features

Depending on version, you will find as standard, or optional, safety features that include a blind spot information system, lane departure warning, traffic sign recognition and adaptive cruise control that can warn when you are too close to the vehicle in front.

But most Fords of recent years have stood out from the pack for the way they drive. It's not, as an engineer from a rival company once told me, that others could not make their cars nicer to drive, it's just that they had other priorities.

So good for Ford to find that the latest C-MAX and Grand C-MAX have been lightly breathed on to make them still better from behind the wheel, with gentle massaging of dampers, suspension bushes and power steering settings.

The result, with the new 118bhp diesel engine doing the work in a £23,145 Titanium spec Grand C-MAX is a car that drives like something much smaller and less accommodating of five adults plus a couple of growing children in the third row.

It is so much removed from the rock and roll lifestyle of a typical SUV as to feel like a car from another planet. A dashboard readout of 44mpg after a brisk outing was further proof that fun and family need not be mutually exclusive.

Will petrol become a fuel for enthusiasts in future?

There are all manner of alternative fuels being touted as the best replacement for petrol. From electric energy and hydrogen to compressed air, all seek to supply greener, cleaner power for our cars.

However, anyone writing the obituary of petrol would do well to stay their pen as reports of its demise are more than a little premature.

Depending on who you speak to and who you choose to believe, fossil fuels have a future of anywhere between 30 and 100 years.

The reasons for such a huge variation in expert estimates are down to the cost of extracting the fuel from the ground. There will come a point where accessing oil to refine into petrol and diesel will simply no longer be cost-effective on a large scale.

However, this does not mean we will see the end of petrol even then. In the short term, there will still be plenty of cars running around that need petrol for their engines, even if those engines are assisted by a hybrid power source.

Another longer term outcome for petrol is that it will become a fuel used by enthusiasts for their cherished vehicles. It may well be much more expensive than it presently is, despite many thinking fuel is too pricey already.

Fans of the combustion engine, and all the power, noise and fun it offers, will still be drawn to petrol as the fuel of choice. Instead of running their everyday car on unleaded, they will have an up-to-date alternative fuel car and save the good stuff for the weekend when they can go cruising, racing or just having fun in their petrol-powered pet car.

Just as we see classic cars nowadays being run on petrol mixed with additives to protect elderly engines, so future drivers will regard petrol as something to use in a car that's a hobby, not a daily proposition.

Enthusiasts may also have to accept some limitations to using their petrol-fuelled fun cars.

For instance the mayor of Paris has banned all cars built before 1997 from the city centre in a bid to clear up air pollution. This could mean petrol heads being restricted by where and when they can drive, but given the passion for petrol-powered cars, it seems likely they will be allowed some freedom to enjoy their pastime.

For those who see this as ridiculous and argue it is allowing a polluting few to enjoy themselves at the expense of the many, the number of miles covered by classic car owners is small and their vehicles are generally maintained to a very high standard.

The impact of a group of enthusiasts enjoying petrol-engined cars in the future will be very small.

Given the cost of petrol in such a world will be very high, owners of such cars will be unlikely to cover large distances anyway.

While the demise of petrol may have been exaggerated in recent times, it is undoubtedly set to become a less common fuel in the decades ahead.

However, even that being the case, there will always be a place for it among enthusiasts' that will see it remain for a long time to come.

RS4 – it's an object of desire

By John Griffiths

There's are good reasons why younger riders are restricted to two-wheelers with limited power: but that doesn't mean they have to be dull.

That's certainly not an adjective you could apply to Aprilia's RS125, a sharply-styled replica of the Italian company's RSV4 superbike racing machine.

Indeed, at first glance it could easily be mistaken for a one-litre machine - until you notice the extra space in the frame where there's a single cylinder in place of the expected four. It's certainly a bike to attract envious glances from riders in their late teens and early 20s who make up the target market,

But it does borrow extensively from Aprilia's impressive record of producing world class racing machines in terms of technology, aerodynamics, chassis and handling.

At £4,571 it certainly isn't cheap for this class of bike, but you are getting a race-bred machine which will turn heads and put a smile on your face, albeit with the 15bhp power limit necessary for younger riders.

This restriction is a great leveller in performance terms, but as a subjective opinion the Aprilia has the edge in terms of style and handling.

It's light and very nimble, and with its super-slick six-speed gearbox is quite capable of reaching 65mph on level ground.

And it does it so well: even with just 125cc on tap, brisk acceleration produces a sporty bark rather than a strangled-by-the-exhaust gasp of less flamboyant machines. The single piston revs willingly up to the 10,500rpm limit.

Top gear is pitched fairly high, so smaller, lighter riders may get to use it more often than me. It's a useful dual carriageway cruising gear, helping to make the theoretical 270 mile range from the 3.5 gallon tank a reality.

The original, and hugely popular, RS4's two-stroke engine was replaced in 2011 by the current fuel injected four stroke to help meet stricter emissions regulations.

The RS 125 has a proud heritage, with a host of championship wins in its class in the hands of riders such as Biaggi, Stoner and Lorenzo and the development of the road-going replica's version has certainly reaped the benefits of lessons learned from the race machine's evolution.

One area in which it stands out is in braking: given the power restriction Aprilia hasn't skimped on the anchors with a 300mm disc and four piston calipers at the front, and a 218mm disc at the rear. The 17-inch wheels are shod with a generously-sized 100/80 tyre at the front and a 130/70 at the rear.

The chassis is also based on the racing machine: tough yet light for precise handling.

The test bike's single racing seat is a reasonably comfortable example of its kind, the pillion portion having been replaced by a colour-coded shell.

The forward riding position means you're low enough to benefit from the wind protection of the aerodynamic fairing, proving that its functional as well as an eye-catching piece of design/

While it might not be the cheapest race replica in the 125cc class, the RS4 has the looks and abilities to make it an object of desire among those new to motorcycling.

Aiming high with Tucson

Until the arrival of this Tucson model, Hyundai's idea of a Qashqai-style family Crossover model was encapsulated by its ix35.

That car sold quite well but somehow, never quite captured the imagination of the buying public. The Tucson though, is a leaner, meaner-looking contender that might well catapult the Korean brand into credible contention in this important growing segment.

Back in 2004, Hyundai launched what should have been a ground-breaking model. Three years before Nissan's Qashqai launched the buoyant market for family-sized Crossovers, the Tucson could have been that car. As it was, the Tucson was marketed as a small SUV, sold poorly and was eventually replaced in 2010 by a model the Korean brand did pitch as a family Crossover, the ix35. Now though, the Tucson name is back, this badge attached to a design that replaces that rather apologetic-looking ix35 and which brings a fresh sense of dynamism to Hyundai's presence in the Crossover sector.

People have come to expect a lot when it comes to driving Crossover cars. Although they want a lofty perch, they also want to feel like they could be driving a hatchback. The Tucson delivers exactly this blend of virtues, hence its very road-biased suspension setup – and the overwhelming emphasis on two wheel drive models across the range.

'Tough looks of an SUV, sensible practicality of a five-seater MPV and the affordability of a family hatchback.'

At the lower end of the range, there's a choice of a 132PS 1.6 GDi petrol or a 116PS CRDi 1.7 diesel. Move a little higher and you can upgrade to a turbocharged 1.6 GDi with 177PS. Diesel fans will find a 2.0 CRDi with either 136PS or 185PS. If you want 4WD, then you'll need the turbo petrol or one of the 2.0-litre diesels.

That 4WD system is fine for slippery surfaces but don't expect a great deal of mud plugging ability. As usual with Hyundai models, there's the option of varying the feel of the steering feedback, via different modes.

It's in this area that Hyundai has arguably made the biggest step forward. With an imposing hexagonal grille and sleek Santa Fe-style headlights, the Tucson is a good looking Crossover.

Climb aboard and the overall fit and finish is a big improvement on the ix35, with a well laid out dashboard. If you find the interior a little dark, then there's the option of a cream lower half to the fascia which does brighten things up significantly.

Space

There are 513-litres of seat up boot space available (or slightly less if you go for 4WD), Fold the seats down and this capacity increases to 1503-litres (or 25-litres less for 4WD). Rear seat space is good, although the rear doors are a little on the small side.

The range may start at less than £19,000 which gets you entry level S trim with the non-turbo 1.6 petrol engine. Spend another £1,500 or so and you can opt for the 1.7 CRDi diesel. If you want the bigger diesel, then you'll need to look at 'SE Nav' trim at just over £24,000, with a further 4WD option adding nearly £2,000 more. If you want auto transmission or the higher output 185PS diesel and 177PS petrol engines, you'll have to pay for 4WD.

Even base 'S' trim comes with kit like a DAB digital radio and Bluetooth connectivity, plus USB and AUX connections, 16" alloy wheels, air conditioning and auto headlights. Next up is the 'SE' grade which adds 17" alloy wheels, rear parking sensors, heated front seats and dual zone climate control, plus the option of an 8" touchscreen sat nav system. Plush 'Premium' trim includes sat nav as standard, plus 19" alloy wheels, leather seats, front parking sensors, auto wipers and heated rear seats. Finally the top 'Premium SE' grade adds a heated wheel, keyless entry, a Smart Parking Assist System on autos, an electric tailgate, LED headlights, an opening panoramic glass roof and ventilated front seats.

All models get six airbags, ABS with brake assist, traction and stability control. Plusher models gain a Lane Keep Assist System (LKAS), Rear Cross Traffic Alert Autonomous Emergency Braking (AEB) and Blind Spot Detection (BSD). The higher the model, the safer you'll be.

So, what do we have? The tough looks of an SUV, the sensible practicality of a five-seater mini-MPV and the affordability of a family hatchback. These are the facts behind a Tucson model good enough to attract many new buyers to the Hyundai brand.

Nothing to beat the GT86

Toyota's GT86 is a sports car that positively growls at you – not just from a lovely pair of exhausts but also from its appearance.

By Sharon Walters

With traditional sports car looks, it has a long bonnet and neat short tail and rear splitter with those twin exhausts. Add to that a slightly menacing front grille and you have a bit of a monster on your hands.

There's no mistaking the intention of the GT86 – a back to basics rear-wheel drive sports car that will give you endless pleasure, even though it hasn't got the most powerful engine in its class the naturally aspirated engine reaches out to you to hit the gas and lay on the revs. The result is pure driving enjoyment. And I certainly experienced that especially on winding twisting roads where you could really appreciate that rear-wheel drive coupled with a lightweight body and plenty of feedback from the steering that make the GT86 one of the best handling sports cars around. And with the car's powerful brakes that don't snatch at all when you need them in a hurry, driving quickly (but not overly so!) means you gain confidence to push the car hard. In fact such was my enjoyment out on the open road that I'd quite like to take this out on to a track and see just how hard I can push it and still feel confident.

Inside the quality of finish is not terribly high but then you're not paying a premium for that – this car is all about the driving. The layout makes it feel like a road-going racer and the cockpit is driver-focused with instrumentation instinctive and functional and superb seats. GT86 has the lowest driver hip-point of any Toyota production vehicle. The seat design was honed using information gained during circuit testing at the Nürburgring to ensure the driver remains comfortable when spending long periods behind the wheel. The seatback and cushions are designed to give the best possible support under acceleration G-forces from the front, rear and sides. And the shape of the front is designed not only for comfort, but also to prevent passengers' elbows from interfering with gearshift operation.

Safety-wise you get seven airbags, stability control and a limited-slip differential (that gives better grip in corners) as standard.

Now it may be touted as a 2+2 but in reality the rear space is tiny and only really useful for storage space. Anyway, who wants to be weighed down by any more people? This isn't a car to transport the family and friends in. You do, however, get a 243 litre boot which is generous for the type of car plus with the rear seats folded down space is enough for a few days away.

I drove one of the special editions, a strictly limited one-off collection, and let me say it got me noticed with people rather expecting a boy racer to emerge from the driver's door. Toyota has transformed a fleet of six GT86 to recreate classic liveries and retro styling details as a tribute to some of the great race and rally cars of the past 50 years. Each car is inspired by a different model. They include two sporting versions of Toyota's original sports car, the 2000GT, and Ove Andersson's 1970s Celica 1600GT rally car – the machine that helped inspire Toyota to launch a full international motorsports programme. The IMSA GTU Celica that raced in North America in the 1980s, the World Rally Championship Celica GT-Four and the Esso Ultron Tiger Supra from the All-Japan Grand Touring Car Championship are also celebrated.

Vehicle vinyl specialist Motor Mode has reproduced key elements from the original liveries in the right proportions for the GT86. New springs bring the cars' ride height down by 40mm and Rota has provided new wheels in different finishes to capture the retro look. A new Milltek Sport stainless steel exhaust system provides the finishing visual and aural flourish.

My 'tribute' GT86 was the Castrol Toyota Celica GT-Four with red and green Castrol livery. This Group A Toyota made its World Rally Championship debut in 1994 and went on to claim seven podium finishes in seven events entered during the 1995 season, including victory for Didier Auriol in the Tour de Corse. I loved it.

But back to the 'ordinary' GT86. If you're tempted it won't break the bank with prices starting from less than £23,000 and it does come with Toyota's five-year warranty. I don't think there's anything to beat it.

Bannister has Wulfs on rails for Sporting

Sporting Khalsa 3
AFC Wulfrunians 2

SPORTING Khalsa progressed to the second qualifying round of the FA Cup for the first time after a pulsating game against Staffordshire neighbours AFC Wulfrunians.

It was the introduction of hat-trick hero Craig Bannister and Michael Nelson just after the hour that effectively turned the game.

Although Wulfrunians finished the game with 10 men after the dismissal late on of Danny Tipton in the lead up to what proved the decisive goal, but Tipton should have seen red within a minute when he brought down Marvin Nisbett in the area, the referee giving a goal kick after weighing up the consequences of giving the foul. The opening stages were low on clear-cut chances until Ben Jevons neatly headed home a brilliant Jake Sedgemoore free kick on 33 minutes.

Within minutes of the restartTes Robinson's far post header was cleared off the line.

Enter Nelson and Bannister a move that totally shifted the balance.

Nelson made his mark, picking up the ball on the left, beating three men and feeding Bannister to score.

With nine minutes to go, Bannister grabbed his second, another long-range effort that ended a move of which Nelson was – again – the architect, sparking jubilation on the touch-line.

Bannister completed his hat-trick from the spot .

Wulfrunians grabbed a late goal from Chatterjee.

Farrington gives Cannock win

Rob Farrington, scorer of the winning goal

Men's National Premier Hockey League
Cannock 2 Beeston 1

THE Men's National Premier League season started at the weekend with Cannock welcoming Midlands rivals and last season's title contenders, Beeston, to Chase Park.

Saturday's game was the first for the new coaching team of Mark Moss and Ben Dudleywho have worked hard to ready the boys.

On show was the new arrival, England U-21 player, Robbie Gleeson and the return of overseas player Ashlin Freddy. Cannock knew they were in for a difficult first fixture.

Beeston were quickly out of the blocks and their sustained pressure and speed in attack soon put Cannock on the back foot.

After a couple of short corner attempts and some near misses in open play Beeston found the back of the net through a slipped penalty corner to James Alberry.

Cannock's Tom Pinnegar was outstanding in the home side's goal but with four minutes remaining and Cannock still behind, coach Moss called for the keeper to be replaced with a kicking back.

Marc Edwards picked up the ball and fired it into the D, for Mark Daniel to deflect into the roof of the net for the equaliser.

Withthe clock in the final minute, a now confident Cannock took the ball from deep within their own half.Rob Farringtondirected the ball home for Cannock's winner.

Batting first Cannock scored 238 for 5 with James Caswell scoring 80 and Adam Benton 57.

Wes Marshall's 4-6, plus two wickets apiece for Connor Shingler and Alex Beaman saw Milford all out for just 161.

Cannock 2nds 151-9
Milford 2nds 154-5
Milford won by five wickets

After loosing the toss Cannock batted first on a slow outfield due to heavy overnight rain. As expected runs were hard to come by and Cannocks innings closed on 151 for 9 with Mike Chadderton scoring 39 and Dan Wood 30.

In reply Milford reached their target in the 44th over for the loss of five wickets, Dan Wood taking 3-50 and John Cooke 2-12.

Cannock 3rds 196-6
Beacon 3rds 150
Cannock won by 46 runs

Cannock finished their season in third place with victory over Beacon.

Batting first Cannock scored 196-6 with Ryan Peach scoring 68 and Jamie Fleet 46no. Matt Bulls 5-18 then helped Cannock bowl Beacon out for 150.

Cannock 4ths 237-6
Hammerwich 4ths 46
Cannock won by 191 runs

Cannock 4ths recorded win 11 to also finish in third place. Mark Bodens 82 and 66 from James Wilson helped Cannock post yet another large total which proved way to many for Hammerwich.

Burntwood stamp their mark on game

Burntwood RUFC 42 Wednesbury RUFC 10

FOR their opening league game of the season Wednesbury made the short journey to local rivals Burntwood.

Wednesbury started their new campaign with a very young side with not a lot of experience.

The hosts began the contest well and could have been ahead as early as the first minute.

Turnover ball was fed to winger Rob Jones who made good ground but the chance was lost due to a fumbled pass in midfield.

Burntwood continued to press and went ahead after ten minutes. Ian Jones fielded a visitors' kick out of defence.

He found skipper Ben Holt who made an incisive break into the 22 before feeding Rookyard who scored the try.

There was no conversion.

Four minutes later the lead was doubled after Rookyard won possession in a tackle to set his side on the attack.

Jack Dace fed Duggan who somehow found his way through heavy traffic to bustle his way over under the posts. There was no conversion as the ball toppled off the tee at the last moment.

Doubled

The visitors then started to get a grip of the game, captain Matt Dale leading by example his work rate and tackling was tremendous aided by the Allwood twins they started to take the game to Burntwood putting them under pressure forcing the home side to give away penalties.

Following this enterprising start the game then went through a period of midfield sterility as the visitors worked their way back into it through their big forwards.

They gained some reward with a well-struck penalty goal from wide out just outside the 22 five minutes from the turnaround.

Another penalty attempt three minutes into the second half was wide of the target but two minutes later the visitors drew level. A wayward kick out of defence set the Wednesbury forwards on the attack.

They drove close to the line before the scrum half nipped through a gap for the try which was converted.

Stung into action, Burntwood regained the lead on 49 minutes. Sean Latham and Josh Canning combined to win turnover ball which was moved wide right. Replacement full back Craig Seedhouse hit the line at pace to send Rob Jones running into the 22. Dave Ward followed up to go close to the line before Rookyard received the ball with time and space to notch his second try.

The result was decided in a seven minute period beginning in the 58th minute with a burst of 17 points.

Rob Jones, Matt Sishton and Holt linked to send Duggan away to the clubhouse corner for his second try. It quickly became a hat-trick for the centre from the restart when the assist was from Brett Taylor.

Then it was Duggan who turned provider.

He made a midfield break from ruck possession to feed Rookyard who completed his hat-trick under the posts.

To ironic cheers, Holt added the only conversion of the afternoon despite the use of three kickers.

Late goals give Hayes the points

Bolehall 1 Heath Hayes 3

TWO late goals brought the points back from Bolehall Swifts.

Hayes got off to an ideal start when after eight minutes they took the lead with a well-worked goal with good play down the left finished by Joe Pickering.

Hayes' young keeper Aden Taylor made sure they went in at half time one nil up with a brave save at the feet of Louis Suckling.

The second half was a pretty even affair with Hayes' solid defence handling the Bolehall forwards until Troy Walker levelled the score.

This bought life to the Hayes' attack and with 15 minutes left Joe Pickering got his second assisted by Dan Scragg

Captain and MoM Jack Arrowsmith's header secured the points for Hayes.

Nine-goal epic sees United go on

Cannock United 5 Barton United 4

CANNOCK started strongly as they took the lead inside the first two minutes of this Leek Cup 1st round match.

This was through a shot from Dan Bowen which took a slight deflection from a Barton defender which further helped the ball on its way into the back of the net.With Barton on the attack, one of their forwards was brought down by Chris Murdoch resulting in a penalty to Barton.

Robert Houston slotted the ball into the net.In the 37th minute, Bowen hit a cross-like shot which headed towards goal only to take a deflection yet again by a Barton defender to help to ball into the net.

However, before the break Barton were able to pull another equaliser out of the bagthrough Leon Evans. The teams went into the break at two goals a piece.

Cannock came back out for the second half with a much more determined attitude. The result of this was a goal from Grant McCarty through a great piece of link up play with Josh Wheeler.

Bowen sealed off his hat-trick on the 55th minute with a volley into the bottom corner of the Barton goal.

Barton pulled a goal back on the 56th minute through Andrew Chambers.

Cannock were awarded a penalty and Liam Birch stepped up but his strike was saved by the Barton keeper only for Bowen to follow up and make the score line 5-3 in Cannock's favour.

Barton still showed no signs of giving up by slotting in another goal on the 72nd minute through Matthew Uncles to make the score line 5-4, putting both teams very on edge. Cannock were able to see the game out to gain the victory. Cannock now face Stone Old Alleynians.

Show of four-ce brings the rewards for the Lockmen

Bewdley Town 1 Willenhall Town 4

A mixture of dogged defending and clinical finishing brought a superb reward for the Lockmen.

Injuries and availability issues again reduced the squad for this West Midlands Premier match.

Willenhall started on the attack but were hit by a sucker punch on 16 minutes when a cross from the left found the unmarked Tom Connolly to head perfectly into the top-left corner, giving emergency keeper Craig Sudlow no chance.

Willenhall had a couple of near-misses from free-kicks, but the home side were generally in charge.

However, the visitors levelled on 36 minutes. Danny Hemmings won a crunching tackle to keep possession, strode forward and met Eddie Wilson's pass to slide his effort in via the far post.

Willenhall went ahead on 73 minutes when Matt Dorgan flicked on Kieran Robinson's quick throw-in for skipper Paul Holden to fire home.

The Lockmen settled it when Wilson picked up a deft touch from Dorgan to score. Holden poked home the fourth.

Scholars throw their Waite around

Nathan Waite bangs in his second. Pic: Dave Birt

Chasetown 3 Grantham 0

CHASETOWN cruised through to the next round of the FA Cup thanks to a Nathan Waite hat-trick.

In a one-sided first half Richard Davies burst into the box but again Turner was equal to the shot, parrying it away.

The Scholars finally broke through in the 38th minute when a superb run from Stan Mugisha opened up the visiting defence and Waite swept the ball home from around the penalty spot.

The Gingerbreads' first serious goal attempt came at the start of the second half with a curling free-kick from Danny Meadows that John Bateman dealt with confidently. The chances continued to come thick and fast and Ryan Wynter and Gould combined inside the area only for Turner to dive to his right and deny Wynter.

Chasetown eventually doubled their lead midway through the half. Mugisha and Wynter teed up Davies whose shot was blocked by Turner but Waite netted the rebound.

Patient build-up work from the home side saw Waite complete his hat-trick with a header from a James Dance cross.

LATE LEVELLER DENIES PITMEN

Hednesford 2 Gloucester 2

HEDNESFORD TOWN were denied a return to winning ways in a 2-2 draw with Gloucester City.

The tie followed an equaliser two minutes from time after striker Kyle Perry had got off the mark for his new side in National League North.

The game took a while to get going with only an Andy Todd's header at the back post in the 21st minute being the only chance of note in the opening exchanges.

Seven minutes later Kennedy Digie saw a low effort saved by City goalkeeper Jas Singh before the Pitmen were awarded a penalty in the 32nd minute as Perry was fouled inside the box.

After waiting a couple of minutes, the striker slotted low into the bottom corner of the net despite the best efforts of Singh.

Five minutes into the second period, the visitors were level as Dave Parton and John Disney left the ball for each other and James Bowen was able to poke home over the Town keeper and into the net.

Loop

The Pitmen responded well though and Sean Williams was able to pick out Perry in the 58th minute and the forward was able to loop his header home over Singh and into the net.

Parton was forced into a great reaction save in the 86th minute though as he got down well to turn Joe Hanks well-driven free kick behind for a corner.

Hednesford looked to have weathered the inevitable storm somewhat but were dealt a blow in the 88th minute when another City corner was this time headed home by striker Joe Parker to bring the scores level.

There would be no late heroics like in the previous home game and the Pitmen had to settle for a draw after being destined for all here points at one stage.

Alfreton 4 Hednesford 0

Bernie McNally's first game in charge since returning to the Pitmen ended in a disappointing defeat.

A third successive win for Hednesford would have propelled them into the top half of National League North.

But the visitors made the worst possible start, falling behind after just eight minutes when Jordan Robertson made no mistake from the penalty spot following a clumsy challenge in the area by Kyle Perry.

It actually woke up Hednesford, who soon began to come more into the game.

Sean Williams fired into the wall from a free-kick on the edge of the area, before arguably Hednesford's best chance of the first half.

Although Hednesford saw plenty of the ball, Town failed to force Duke into any saves of note, doubtless influencing McNally's decision to make a half-time substitution as Paul Ennis replaced Perry.

However, it was Alfreton who once again came out the blocks first following the interval.

The home side soon doubled their advantage in the 62nd minute when another wicked free-kick into the box from Joe Leesley was flicked home neatly by Reds substitute Jamie Jackson.

Alfreton found the back of the net once again thanks to Sam Jones.

The afternoon went from bad to worse for the visitors as Jones grabbed his second of the game with a perfectly placed header.

Boss happy as trio sign at Keys Park

HEDNESFORD TOWN boss Bernie McNally has revealed he is delighted with the work assistant manager Chris Brindley has already undertaken since his role was confirmed.

The Pitmen have already wrapped up a trio of signings since McNally took the helm again but the former Albion man insisted he owes much to Brindley's knowledge.

He said: "I'm absolutely delighted to have already got the three lads in. Chris has been instrumental and that is exactly where our partnership works.

"He's had names in the pipeline and they were players that really impressed me on Tuesday night, so I had no doubts over bringing them in."

The trio of new men are all returning to Keys Park, having had some time at the club previously, and all went straight into the squad for Saturday's game at Alfreton Town.

Matt Regan, a left-sided defender, central midfielder James McQuilkin and goalkeeper Lloyd Ransome have all returned to the club.

The boss added: "Matt is an exciting defender with good pedigree. He's a good size defender who has the physical qualities.

"Lloyd turned up an unknown quantity and really impressed. He's 6ft 4in which is a great size and didn't look out of place at all.

"James is a busy little midfielder and I'm delighted with him too. He likes to get on the ball and play it around.

"We need to strengthen the squad because we're a bit light and don't have the option to really rely on youth.

"It's interesting if you bring players you know back to the club. They really develop in those two or three years."
